Miss Nellie Redding Is Bride Of Philip J. Miller

Miss Nellie Rose Redding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Redding, Lincolnway West, became the bride of Philip John Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at a nuptial mass in the St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Stanley Laurinitis, assistant pastor of the church, performed the single ring ceremony. Fr. Paul Aumen, C.PP.S., pastor of the Corpus Christi church, Dayton, Ohio, was in the sanctuary for the nuptial ceremonies. The church was decorated with white mums and yellow chrysanthemums. Potted palms were placed at the entrance to the sanctuary.

Mrs. Paul L. Roy, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. George F. Eberhart, sang during the ceremony, "Ave Maria," "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

Given By Father

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin gown, square neckline, long sleeves pointed over the wrists, basque bodice and full bouffant skirt. Her full length veil of net trimmed with lace was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid. A single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, formed her jewelry.

Mrs. William Small, West High street, cousin of the bride, who was the matron-of-honor was fashioned in a gooseberry green satin gown, similar to that of the bride, with the exception of puffed sleeves. She wore a headdress and mitts of matching material. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses and bronze mums.

Charles Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, brother of the groom, served as best man. Lawrence Redding, Lincolnway West, and Bernard Miller, Gettysburg R. 1, were ushers. They were in formal attire.

100 At Wedding Breakfast

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at the Shetter House with 100 guests present. The bridal table was decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, and fall flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and Hahnemann Medical hospital of technology. She also served with the Navy for 15 months. For the last year, Mrs. Miller was a staff member of the York hospital.

The bridegroom attended auctioneering school in Indiana and at present is engaged in farming.

Following a honeymoon of unannounced destination, the couple will reside at the bridegroom's home. Mrs. Miller's going away ensemble consisted of a green jersey dress, brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

COMMISSIONERS ASKED TO MOVE ELECTION HOUSE

The Adams county commissioners have received five petitions, containing approximately 200 names, asking that a Hamiltonban township election house be removed from its present location at the intersection of the Fairfield-Orrtanna and Gettysburg-Fairfield roads.

The petitions also ask that the land on which the election house stands be turned over to the state highway department to permit improvement of the intersection there.

Clarence C. Smith, clerk of the commisisoners, said today that the land was bought by the county in about 1900 at a cost of $15.

Included among the signatures on the petition were the names of Ross M. King, Harvey P. Walter and C. F. Nintle, road supervisors for Hamiltonban township, who announced publicly that they favor the project. The public announcement was made, they said, to correct an erroneous rumor being circulated that they were opposed to the plan.

Signed not only by residents of Hamiltonban township, but also by Fairfield residents, the petitions note "The intersection as it exists today is a traffic hazard. The lack of parking space and other conditions make it unsafe and inconvenient for the voters to attend an election."

The petitions also state, "action

WOLFORD CASE ON TRIAL TODAY IN COUNTY COURT

Albert L. Wolford, Delray Beach, Fla., former Gettysburg borough policeman, was on trial today before an Adams county jury on a charge of violation of the bulk sales act.

Wolford was brought to trial at 9:30 o'clock this morning immediately after the county court overruled a motion to quash the indictment against him. The court ordered the trial to proceed immediately.

Wolford is charged with having violated the bulk sales law in the sale of his service station on Buford avenue to Ralph Miller, Gettysburg trucker, on September 20, 1948.

Most of the testimony this morning was given by Miller. Miss Nina Storrick was the first witness. She said that Wolford had sworn before her to an affidavit stating that there were no creditors involved in the sale.

The affidavit was made, Miller said, after he and Wolford had gone to the Farmers and Merchants bank, New Oxford, to pay off a debt of $865 owed by Wolford to the bank and to the Gettysburg Autoparts where Wolford had paid off a bill of $250.

Miller said the two had gone to the bank and store when the attorney drawing up the agreement, Donald M. Swope, told them that all bills outstanding against the station would have to be settled before the transaction could go through.

Miller said that no money passed hands at the New Oxford bank; that he borrowed the money to buy the station from the New Oxford bank

Borough Official States Lincoln Plot Will Not Be Removed; Says "Too Much Pressure" Is Exerted

The center plot in Lincoln Square will not be removed for several seasons, one of which is political, a borough official, who asked to remain anoymous, told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times today.

The state highway department, Harrisburg, has agreed to make a survey of traffic conditions in Gettysburg, but it will not recommend the removal of the center plot when the report of the survey is made to the borough council, this official predicted.

"Too much pressure has been brought to bear in Gettysburg and also in Harrisburg, against the removal of the circle," he said.

"The Republican party, in power in the state, does not want to lose Adams county," this official added. "It is 'in the middle' in a similar situation in Chambersburg, and the state will not place itself in this position in Gettysburg."

Cites Other Objections

There are other reasons why this official believes that the center plot is there to stay. One is that there would have to be provision for left-hand turns in the square, and it is felt that this would increase, rather than reduce, the accident hazard.

A survey made by the state since the borough council voted to take out the center plot revealed that 5,198 automobiles and trucks passed through the square in a four-hour period.

A large percentage of this traffic made from one-quarter to three-quarters circuits of the square and 40 per cent of the traffic entering from York street went around the circle and up Baltimore street, the official said.

No One-Way Traffic

He pointed out that it was physically impossible to provide one-way traffic through the square, as was done in York, because there are no parallel streets to be utilized.

State officials indicated that the traffic survey here would take six months. Until a report is received by the borough council, this body will take no further action. But if public opinion is as strong next spring against the removal of the plot as it appears to be at the present time, council very likely will rescind its action of November 6.

No predictions were being made as to whether the state would recommend traffic signals, but the highway department's statement of November 21 that "the community must make its own decisions" still stands.

Police Apprehend 5 Maryland Boys

Five Maryland boys were picked up by borough police officers at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night attempting, police said, to steal gasoline at the National garage.

Earlier reports had been received by police that several youths were drinking in the G. C. Murphy parking lot in the rear of Baltimore street and "going through," other cars parked there.

They were taken to police headquarters, and later released in the custody of their parents.

TURKEY AT COUNTY HOME

Turkey with all the trimmings was served to the residents of the county home Thursday for the main Thanksgiving meal. Herbert Taylor, steward at the county home, said that various organizations are beginning to bring holiday gifts to the county home inmates with a Biglerville Sunday school class visiting the home Thursday to bring presents for the old folks.

REV. BROWN IS SPEAKER FOR UNION SERVICE

"Thanksgiving is the foundation stone of all Christian action," the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, Gettysburg Presbyterian pastor, declared Thursday morning in his sermon at the union Thanksgiving service in the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Speaking from the text: "What have you that you did not receive?" the Rev. Mr. Brown recalled the example of the Pilgrim fathers. "With over half their number dead, they labored, worked and waited and God gave them a harvest. They gathered with their neighbors, the friendly Indians, and sat down with bowed heads and gave thanks. We all know the Pilgrims' answer to the question asked in our text," he continued.

"Now after years that have brought mighty changes and transformations that we can hardly account for, let us beware lest we 'turn proud' and forget God. We are only God's tenants, for the earth is the Lord's. God never auctioned the good earth. He simply gave us the use of it.

"Let us all know that all we are and ever can, should or ought to be lie within the power and possibility of God. Let gratitude be our theme song. Let us go forth as grateful servants of our Lord."

The church was well filled for the annual community service. The pastor of the host church, the Rev. Harold V. March, conducted the service which was held at 9 a.m.

TRAFFIC HERE CALLED "LIGHT"

Holiday traffic over most of the main highways in this section of Pennsylvania was characterized as "light" by state police of the Gettysburg substation.

The heavy traffic will come Sunday afternoon and evening, police said, when many who drove "home" for the Thanksgiving holiday make the return trip to their own homes.

There was considerable traffic Wednesday afternoon, particularly out of Washington, D. C., police said. For many, it is a long holiday, embracing the week-end from Wednesday to Sunday night. Police said federal offices in Washington and state offices in Harrisburg were closed.

It was no holiday for state police. A full "crew" at the Gettysburg substation was on duty all day Thursday. State police reported that the day was passed quietly, with no accidents reported.

10 To 15 Degrees Above Zero Predicted; Storm Hits State

(By The Associated Press)

A driving snowstorm hit Pennsylvania today as the worst cold wave of the season moved into the state.

From one to six inches of snowfall was reported in many sections of western Pennsylvania.

Traffic was at a virtual standstill on all highways leading into Pittsburgh at 9 a.m.

All main highways in the western part of the state were reported in "highly hazardous condition."

Scores of skidding accidents were reported but no one was killed.

The snowfall at Pittsburgh reached about two inches but the fall was continuing.

Erie county reported a six-inch snowfall. Weather bureau forecasters predicted the snow would reach a depth of 12 inches before the storm subsided.

The forecasters say the cold front from the midwest will continue a slow eastward movement until it engulfs all of Pennsylvania tonight.

A low of five degrees above zero in western Pennsylvania is predicted for early Saturday.

There's a chance that readings of zero or lower may be recorded in some mountain areas.

A low of 10 to 15 degrees by tomorrow morning is predicted for eastern Pennsylvania.

Arrival of the cold front in western Pennsylvania was accompanied by snow flurries which made auto driving hazardous. Some flurries were predicted for the western part of the state the remainder of the day

GENERAL LENTZ, COLLEGE GRAD, GETS NEW POST

Brig. General J. Max Lentz, a graduate of Gettysburg college, has been named chief of staff of the new U.S. Seventh Army, the first American "army" in continental Europe since demobilization after World War II, according to The Associated Press.

General Lentz graduated here with the class of 1917, and entered the army after graduation as an officer in World War I. He is a son of the late Hualpha M. and Laura M. (LaMotte) Lentz, and was born born January 30, 1896 at Florence, Ky., while his father, a Lutheran pastor, held a pastorate there. He is a member of the SAE fraternity.

Father Is Local Grad

General Lentz was the youngest of four children. Others were Ruth L., Mary K., and Luther H. Lentz. His father graduated at Gettysburg college in 1878. General Lentz married the former Anna Adams of Buffalo, N. Y., on November 2, 1929.

The announcement of the reactivation of the Seventh Army was made today from Heidelberg, Germany. Two veteran major tactical units of American forces in Germany, the First U.S. Infantry division and the U.S. Constabulary, have been assigned to the new unit, the U.S. commander-in-chief in Europe, Gen. Thomas T. Handy, announced.

Fit New Defense Plans

The Seventh will have its headquarters in Stuttgart. Its commander will be Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commanding general of U.S. ground forces in Europe. Anticipating the planned increase of American forces in Europe, the new Seventh will provide the organization into which the new units can be assimilated. Formation of U.S. units on the "army" basis also makes it possible to fit American forces in Europe into European defense plans.

The Seventh army invaded Southern France in the summer of 1944 and fought its way into Southern Germany.

A veteran armored force commander Maj Gen I. D. White, was named deputy commander under Gen. Eddy.

Huge UN Army Launches Big Offensive To "Finish" War

Tokyo, Nov. 24 (AP)—A United Nations 100,000-man army launched an offensive on the entire Korean battle front today to end the war in a hurry.

The attack is moving "according to schedule," General MacArthur announced tonight. It followed a long lull and unconfirmed peace rumors.

MacArthur made the announcement at 8 p.m. (6 a.m., EST) 12 hours after flying boldly to the northwest front to direct the all-out assault.

Elsewhere Allied divisions forged ahead in a giant pincer movement.

The assault along the 80-mile northwest front was moving ahead against "stubborn but failing resistance," MacArthur said.

Gains ranged up to eight miles.

Allied Losses Light

U.N. losses were "extraordinarily light" as the Allies pushed toward mountains where an estimated 100,000 Reds are entrenched. MacArthur said new Red armies had joined the defenders, but didn't amplify the statement.

Allied aircraft provided a "full strength" aerial umbrella for the advance.

The entire giant pincer movement, MacArthur said, is geared for a sustained offensive to end the war

ADAMS COURTS WILL ADJOURN FOR HUNTERS

The Adams county court will adjourn next week for the hunting season.

That decision was announced at the conclusion of court Wednesday afternoon when Judge W. C. Sheely received a petition from the jurors asking that court be postponed from November 27 until December 4.

Judge Sheely then asked the various attorneys whether they objected to posponement of next week's session of court and when they agreed the court announced the adjournment.

29 Sign Petitions

Twenty-nine jurors signed the petition which noted that many are accustomed to annually devote the first days of the hunting season to seeking deer and that they would like to have the same privilege again this year.

H. Jay Hoff, York real estate dealer, was found guilty of fraudulent conversion in the sale of the property of Martin Diller, Abbottstown, by a county jury Wednesday afternoon at 4:55 o'clock.

Most of Wednesday afternoon's session was devoted to testimony by Huff, who told the jury that he had sold the Diller property to a York man before selling it again to Harry King. Mr. and Mr. Diller were paid $2,200 minus Huff's commission for the six acre property, King paid $2,850 for the land. Huff was charged with having retained the $650 difference between the two prices.

Confusing Answers

On the stand the York real estate operator frequently was called to task by his apparent inability to give a "yes" or "no" answer to any question put on him. Usually his answers ran off into detailed explanations in which Huff held he could have bought the land himself for $2200 and then sold it for $2850.

FILE DAMAGE SUIT

A suit claiming damages of $1,000 has been entered in Frederick Circuit court by Effie M. Gastley, Ralph M. Gastley, Roy F. Gastley and Earl L. WOLFORD CASE and that the bank simply gave him $665 less than the amount borrowed and applied the $865 to the Wolford note. Miller said he was co-signer with Wolford on the $865 note.

In cross-examination, Miller said that he kept his trucks at Wolford's service station for some time prior to the sale and used Wolford's tele-phone for calls and used Wolford's desk "to figure on." He said he spent from one to five hours a day at Wol-ford's station during the period when he kept his trucks there prior to his purchase of the station.

Tell Of Debts

Other witnesses appeared to tell of how much Wolford owed them when he sold the station. Edgar L. Deardorff, vice president of the First National bank, said that on Sep-tember 20, 1948, Wolford owed the bank $2,120 of which $2,550 was se-cured by titles to cars. John H. Basehore said the Delray Beach policeman owed $95.45 on insurance. John W. Hewitt, cashier of the Get-tysburg National bank, testified that $650, the remainder of an orig-inal note for $1,000 was still owing his bank. Robert Hartley, local Thrift plan manager, said Wolford owed his firm $1,584.

The jury hearing the case in-cludes Emma C. Boyer, East Berlin R. 2; J. S. Deatrick, Aspers R. 1; Mrs. Helen Eisenhart, Aspers; Mrs. Viola Gebhart, Hanover R. 4; R. H. Higinbotham, New Oxford R. 1; John Kendlehart, Highland avenue; P. S. Peters, Bendersville; William Randall, Hanover; William Rentzel, Fairfield R. 1; Mervin R. Singley, McKnightstown; Edgar Woodward, Biglerville, and Marie A. Zeigler, 33 East Lincoln avenue.

Sidney Friedman, Harrisburg, and Charles Wolf, Gettysburg attorney, are representing Wolford in the case.

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — Ten persons accused of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions of the House Unamerican Activities committee pleaded inno-cent today. They appeared before U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Mat-thews, who gave defense attorneys until Dec. 19 to file motions.

Unbeaten Diplomats Wallop Bullets 59-20 Before 13,000 Fans; Westerdahl Breaks Leg

Gettysburg college's football team ended a disastrous season Thanksgiving Day by sustaining a 59-20 shellacking at the hands of the undefeated Franklin and Marshall eleven before a crowd of approximately 13,000 fans at Williamson field, Lancaster.

The victory was a costly one for the Diplomats who are being considered for the Cigar Bowl game, Bruce Westerdahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Westerdahl, East Middle street, receiving a fracture of his right leg below the knee in the third quarter when he made a sensational catch of a long pass which he took out of the hands of two Bullet defenders on the 2-yard line.

In losing their sixth decision in nine starts this season the Bullets gave a drab performance and were completely outclassed by their rivals after the first period.

Series Even

As a result of the defeat, the Bullets and F. and M. are all even in their 53-game series. Each team has now won 24 decisions while five ended in deadlocks.

After a scoreless first round, five touchdowns came in the second period, four by the Diplomats. Werst passed to Jiras on the Gettysburg 12 and Jack Lowder, who tallied three times to take the lead in the state scoring, plunged over from the 1, three plays later. Galebach's kick was wide. A pass interception, first of six by F. and M., set the stage for the winners' second TD, Cordier making the theft on the Gettysburg 10. Lowder plunged from the 3 and Galebach converted. A clipping penalty on a play when F. and M. punted was costly a few seconds later, the infraction putting the ball on the Gettysburg 24 from where High broke through to go the distance.

On the following kickoff Don Emert took the ball on his 10 and raced to the F. and M. 26 before being caught from the rear by Myers. Bitner then chucked a pass to Don Young, who scored all of the Bullet touchdowns, on the 10 where he twisted away from a F. and M. defender to go over. Ward booted the point via placement.

After kicking off to F. and M. the Bullets recovered a fumble on the Lancaster 21 but a flat pass by Bitner was intercepted on the 10 by Cordier and he raced 90 yards to tally. Galebach booted the point.

It took less than five minutes for F. and M.'s fifth touchdown in the third period. Witmer racing over from the 12 with Galebach converting.

Less than three minutes later Wertz passed to Westerdahl on the 2 and then Lowder plunged over from that point. Again Galebach converted.

Interference Helps

An interference penalty on a pass gave the Bullets a first down on the F. and M. 1 several minutes later from where Young smashed through. Ward added the point via a placement.

Coach Woody Sponaugle, apparently bent on rolling up as big a score as possible, kept his regulars in action throughout and the score rocketed. Late in the third quarter Cope intercepted a pass and ran 18 yards to make the score 46-14.

After a minute and one half of the final period, Mischissin intercepted a Hamomnd pass and streaked over from the 16.

The Bullets' final tally was setup on a pass to Emert on the 4 and three plays later Young cracked over from the 1 foot mark. Ward's placement was wide.

Scoring Near Record

The scoring was concluded with less than two minutes to go when Galebach passed 14 yards to Lucas in the end zone.

Thursday's point total was one of the highest ever recorded in the long series, Gettysburg having the record with a 72-0 win in 1905.

Some consolation for the Bullets was gained in scoring 20 points, just one short of the combined total of eight previous foes of the Diplomats. F. and M. had been unscored upon in its last six games.

Consider Diplomats For Cigar Bowl Bid

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall kept their eyes open for a possible Cigar Bowl bid after finishing their first unbeaten, untied season in 60 years.

F. & M. trounced Gettysburg, 59 to 20, in a turkey day game yesterday before 13,000 for their ninth straight win.

At Tampa, Fla., Cigar Bowl officials said the Diplomats are being considered along with Florida State, Morris Harvey, Scranton, John Carroll, Valparaiso, LaCrosse (Wis.) Teachers, St. Ambrose and Appalachian. The committee expects to make a decision next Tuesday.

Running fullback Lowder tallied three times for Coach Woody Sponaugle's team. He now has 84 points for the season to lead college individual scorers in the state.

Don Young scored all three of the Gettysburg touchdowns.

Couple, Dead A Week, Found By Landlady

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—A landlady found the bodies of a Harrisburg man and wife, apparently dead for a week, in their two-room apartment here.

The couple were identified by the coroner's office as Lee R. Mummaw, 40, and Edna Mummaw, 38. Death was attributed to suffocation since there was evidence, the office said, that jets of a gas stove in the apartment had been turned on.

CANNER GRID SQUADS FETED

Donald M. Enders, supervising principal of the Camp Hill schools, was the speaker Wednesday evening at the annual football banquet of Biglerville high school held in the school cafeteria. Three football teams were honored after having completed successful seasons. Mr. Enders is a graduate of Gettysburg college and is also a football official. This year he officiated in two games played on the Biglerville field.

Toastmaster for the evening was Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Upper Adams Joint School district. Charles B. Spicer, father of Edwin Spicer, who was a senior member of the Biglerville varsity, spoke on behalf of the parents, who were guests of the boys at this dinner. The invocation was given by the Rev. Nevin Frantz, pastor of the Reformed churches in Biglerville and Arendtsville.

The six coaches of the Biglerville coaching staff, Russel J. Kane, Hobert Benchoff, Charles Goodling, Bruce Sheats, Clair Settle and Malcolm Boyer, introduced their squads. Approximately 200 persons including the squads, their parents, and the faculty members of the high school were present. This is the second annual banquet to which the parents of the squads have been the guests of their sons who play football.

DELONE WHIPS ST. MICHAEL'S FOR 7TH WIN

Delone Catholic high school smashed the undefeated 20-game streak of St. Michael's Institute of Scranton by scoring a one-sided 47-7 victory in a post-season football game played Thursday afternoon at McSherrystown.

Coach Phil Yanoschik's Squires put the game on ice in the first period by pounding over three touchdowns. After holding a 27-0 lead at half time the Delone outfit added three more touchdowns in the third quarter before yielding a touchdown to the Scranton diocesan champions in the final period.

Ed Timmins and Bill Sheaffer each accounted for three touchdowns for the winners while Ed Steinberger, of Gettysburg, scored the other Squire six-pointer.

The victory marked the fifth in a row for Delone and the seventh in 11 games for the season.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
Gettysburg Times,
Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The members of our Camp wish to thank publicly all individuals and organizations who assisted in the observance of the 87th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address last Sunday, especially the members of the High School band, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and those who furnished

Dear Sir:

May we commend you for your efforts to make Gettysburg even better known than it now is? "Gettysburg" is more than the name of a borough in Pennsylvania—it is a symbol of the Union of the States, of the Turning Point of the Rebellion.

We should all remember that.

Sincerely,
Gettysburg Camp No. 112

Indianapolis, Nov. 24 (AP)—Half of the hundreds of central Indiana householders who invited Camp Atterbury soldiers for Thanksgiving dinner still wondered today what became of their guests.

Atterbury checked out 1,043 men who had accepted invitations, but only 590 showed up at the Servicemen's Center in the Indiana War Memorial here. The mass disappearance put a chill on hospitality, in the Indianapolis area. A total of 1,500 invitations had been offered.

Tells Germans Their Duty For Defense

Kiel, Germany, Nov. 24 (AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy warned the Germans today that they "must squarely face" the issue of defending freedom in Europe.

"No one can preserve your freedoms for you," McCloy said in an address prepared for delivery at Kiel university.

McCloy's speech reflected the growing concern of American officials over indications of German unwillingness to take up arms in west European defense.

He spoke only five days after the German Socialist party, which has been opposing German rearmament, scored a smashing election triumph in two west German states. Another election highlighting the same rearmament issue will be held next Sunday in the big west German state of Bavaria.

Mechanicsburg, 19; Carlisle, 7.

Mechanicsburg high spoiled the perfect mark goal of the Carlisle high gridders by scoring three times in the final period to gain a 19-7 victory in a South Penn conference game Thursday at Carlisle. The defeat did not have any bearing on the conference title, Carlisle having clinched the championship last week on the point basis system.

RAMS AND BEARS CLASH SUNDAY

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—With the National Conference title virtually at stake the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears clash at Chicago Sunday in the top NFL game of the day.

The New York Yanks were practically eliminated by virtue of their crushing 49-14 rout at the hands of Detroit yesterday. The division title seems almost certain to go to the winner of the Rams-Bears game.

The New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles tangle at the Polo grounds in a crucial game in the American conference. A Giant victory will permit Steve Owen's lads to tie idle Cleveland for the lead. Philadelphia must win to stay in the running.

Baltimore plays at Washington and San Francisco at Green Bay in other Sunday games.

A Thanksgiving Day crowd of 30,206 at Detroit saw the Lions rip the Yanks apart. Bobby Layne and Doak Walker sparked the attack. In another Turkey Day NFL fray at Chicago the Pittsburgh Steelers, paced by Joe Geri, whipped the Chicago Cardinals, 28 to 17, before 11,622.

BRIEF PRICE SURGE

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—A fast opening rise soon ran out of buying fuel in the stock market today. Gains ranged to around $2 a share before the advance lost momentum. Most issues slipped back a trifle from their extreme gains but on the whole improvement was well maintained. The initial sweep ahead was evidently a carryover from Wednesday when the market surged forward to a 20-year peak.

Seoul, Nov. 24 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lee Ho said today 877 Red collaborators have been sentenced to death by Republic of Korea military and civil courts. Lee, vice-commander of martial law, said 161 have been executed. He did not say how many were women.

Walcott To Meet Rex Layne Tonight

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Rex Layne gambles for the whole pot tonight when he takes on tough old Jersey Joe Walcott in a one-shot bid for a crack at Ezzard Charles' heavyweight crown.

It's a giant step for the 22-year-old pride of Utah. If he beats Walcott in their 10 rounder in Madison Square Garden he will bypass every other contender in the ranks and just about clinch a June title chance with Charles, providing Ez still is the king.

But whipping the cunning, experienced 36-year-old Camden, N. J., negro is a big order for anyone in the business today. Old Joe is hoping for a fourth title shot himself and he's proclaimed that he intends to kayo the green youngster.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ATTAINMENT

All of us have had dreams—and most of us continue our association with them! For, after all, are not dreams the father of all achievement? These marvelous inventions that have given to modern life its comforts and enjoyments were but dreams a few years ago.

Reading in that interesting book, by the late Logan Pearsall Smith, "Unforgotten Years," after telling of the years of his childhood, he remarked: "I became vaguely aware of Culture, not indeed as a thing of value in itself, but as bestowing a kind of distinction upon its possessors, a distinction superior in some mysterious way to that of a big-game killer which had hitherto been my ambition and my dream."

It is this self distinction, created out of the substance of ourselves, that puts meaning into our lives and enables us to gain the sort of Culture that makes us companionable to ourselves, as well as to others. We ought to be too proud to be a mere imitator, a drone, or a nonentity. There are superior spiritual heights, toward whose attainment, no mere monetary or material aims can compete.

Admiral Peary gained personal satisfaction in his discovery of the North Pole, divorced from all other considerations. He had attained his life dream! He had achieved something at the time that no other human being had. Though it took him half a lifetime, under the most trying of circumstances, the attainment gave to him the pure pleasure, which was all he asked in return.

We cannot be too particular about giving first satisfaction to ourselves. Shakespeare put it clearly in that famous line of his: "To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Who is there among us wise enough, or good enough, to pass judgment upon another? What do we know about the hidden beauty, or the concealed inward struggle, that another human being bears? Who can fathom the dreams of one's heart? It is there that all attainment in life is nurtured.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Take a Chance!"

Just Folks

THE OLD BASEBURNER

There was a stove we fed with coal,
Windowed with little mica squares
Adorned with many a metal scroll.
Nearby were dad's and mother's chairs.
That stove gave out, it seems to me,
A warmth we could both feel and see.

It had a rail around its base,
Where coming from the snow-lined street
Contentment, stamped upon his face,
My father used to warm his feet.
And always at the close of day:
"It's good to be at home," he'd say.

Such stoves to furnaces gave way.
Their little windows glowed no more.
We'd bartered charm and space, I'd say
When registers broke every floor.
We drew the warmth from fire below,
But lost its cheery, friendly glow.

I do not view with grim alarm
The modern methods that we learn
Nor to that old baseburner's charm
When winter comes would I return.
But it was pleasant, I repeat,
To watch my father "warm his feet."

MAY EXHAUST STATE RELIEF FUND IN APRIL

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania's $186,000,000 relief for 1949-51 has now dwindled to $40,000,000 and may fall some $13,000,000 short of lasting out the biennium.

Based on the present monthly expenditure rate of $6,300,000, the public assistance fund may be exhausted by April of next year.

Thos would mean the 1951 Legislature would have to appropriate about $13,000,000 in deficiency funds to carry the relief program to the May 31 conclusion of the two-year fiscal period.

This would be nothing new, however, since legislators in the past several sessions have had to make special deficiency appropriations for relief. The 1947-49 deficiency amount was $10,600,000.

"Very Encouraging"

The size of the deficiency appropriation required by the 1951 General Assembly for relief purposes will depend on the number of persons on relief during winter months.

Robert Wray, deputy public assistance secretary, said today the relief outlook for the coming winter months is "very encouraging."

He said the impact of defense orders has boosted employment causing a steady decline in the relief load for the past several months. The load during the period from October 1 to Nov. 1 dropped from 340,000 to 330,000 persons.

Situation Eased

This compares with a load of about 479,000 persons last winter when monthly relief outlays spurred by coal and steel strikes were averaging about $9,000,000 a month. It was feared at that time that public assistance funds would run out by next January, requiring an emergency deficiency appropriation of some $25,000,000. Declining relief rolls since that time, however, have eased the situation.

The 1949 Legislature earmarked $161,000,000 for relief for the current biennium and set up an emergency contingecy fund of $25,000,000 for use if the regular relief fund proved insufficient. The combined amount totaling $186,000,000, was the largest relief chunk earmarked by the Legislature since World War II. This was still far under relief expenditures made during the depression years, however, when appropriations ran well over $200,000,000.

WILLIAMSPORT PLANS TV RELAY

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — Three residents of Williamsport, Pa., today were preparing an application for a non-profit television relay station which they say would end the blackout of video in their mountain area.

Frank C. Bowers, Jr., spokesman for the group, said during a Washington visit that he recognizes the difficulties ahead. But he added:

"We are not going to give up until Williamsport has television. What's more, what we are proposing would be of equal benefit to many other communities throughout the nation that are now without television because of the present Communications commission freeze on new TV stations."

Bowers, who is employed by an electrical appliance distributing company, was accompanied by Warren Lomison, who is engaged in radio service, and John Vandling, a radio technician.

Without disclosing any of the techincal features, Bowers said the group's plan is to set up near Williamsport a TV station which would pick up TV programs from outside and re-broadcast them in Williamsport area. Bowers wrote a letter to the Communications commission and then came to Washington to discuss the proposal.

He, Lomison and Vandling had a two-hour conference Wednesday with C. M. Braum, chief of the FCC's television engineering division, and Harry Becker of the FCC's legal staff.

Moscow, Nov. 24 (AP)—An Azerbaijan mountaineer, Ibrahim Gadzhiev, recently celebrated his 151st birthday, a Soviet newspaper reported today. The dispatch said Gadzhiev "despite his advanced age feels in good health." His family was said to number about 50 persons.

BLAST RIPS UP MILE OF NEW GAS PIPELINE

King of Prussia, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—A blast, ripping the earth with terrific force, tore up a mile of a new Texas-to-New York natural gas pipeline yesterday, rocking this fertile farm area for seven miles in all directions.

Blinding flames shot 300 feet in the air and seered trees and grass.

Huge chunks of the metal pipeline were thrown with rocket speed into fields. Windows in homes miles from the explosion were shattered.

100 Fire Engines Called

Two outbuildings on the farm of Peter Carmiel, where the blast originated, were destroyed by the flames which scorched the earth for 150 feet on both sides.

More than 100 fire engines from a score of small communities in the vicinity of this Montgomery county community rushed equipment to the scene. Ambulances, too, were summoned.

The blast scene is halfway between Norristown and Phoenixville and is not far from the recently completed eastern terminus of the Pennsylvania turnpike at King of Prussia.

Thousands of automobiles clogged roads in Valley Forge Park and all through the area where the blast was heard.

Had Been Alerted

Firemen and police said they had been alerted to watch for trouble on the new section of pipeline by representatives of Transcontinental Pipelines, Inc.

A pressure test was begun Tuesday and firemen were ordered to "standby" for possible trouble. Several homes in the vicinity of the pipeline were ordered evacuated before the pressure tests began.

Injured slightly in the blast were Edwin Carmiel, 27, and his brother, Joseph, 21, who were gunning on the farm owned by their brother, Peter. Both men were hurled into the air by the force of the blast though they were 500 feet away from the pipeline. Joseph suffered a sprained ankle as he fell after the blast. Edwin was bruised.

Under Control In Hour

Despite the handicap of lack of an adequate water supply and snarled traffic firemen had the blaze under control within an hour. By nightfall only charred trees and blackened ground outlined the blast area.

A spokesman for Fish Constructors, Inc., the contractors in charge of construction work, said the pipeline had been shut off at a valve near North Wales, five miles away, as soon as the blast occurred. The construction company spokesman said cause of the blast had not been determined.

The 30-inch pipeline is nearly completed.

Shortly after the explosion ambulances went to the scene from Norristown and Phoenixville when rumors circulated that the blast occurred in the boiler room of the Philadelphia Protectory for Boys, half mile west of where the gas line broke. At the protectory a football game was underway. Terrified spectators and players ran from the field.

Cat That Sounded Alarm Dies In Fire

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—Ralph J. Lasky, his wife and her sister had something definite to be grateful for on Thanksgiving Day — the bell around the neck of the Lasky pet cat.

Mrs. Lasky's sister, Bertha Dorsett of Harrisburg, Pa., was aroused yesterday morning by the tinkling bell attached to the collar of the cat, "Billy."

The sister investigated and found "Billy" wondering about, groggy from smoke filling the apartment.

Miss Dorsett aroused her sister and brother-in-law. The three fled to the street but "Billy" perished in the blaze that firemen said caused $15,000 damage to a cafe beneath the Lasky apartment.

MORE CASUALTIES

RECORD DEATH TOLL ON HOLIDAY ACROSS NATION

The nation counted a record breaking number of accidental The nation counted a record deaths over the Thanksgiving holiday.

A crash on the Long Island railroad Thanksgiving Eve, killing 77 persons, was the main factor in boosting the toll to a new high for the holiday.

A survey showed a death toll of 189, surpassing last year's record high of 181. It also was far ahead of the 114 accidental deaths in 1948; 128 in 1947, and 83 in 1946.

83 Traffic Deaths

Traffic accidents this year took the lives of 83 persons—as compared to a record 123 on Thanksgiving Day last year. But the collision of two jammed trains on Long Island brought up the toll. In addition, there were 28 other fatalities listed under miscellaneous causes—shootings, fires, drownings and other causes.

The survey covered a period from 6 p.m., Wednesday to midnight Thursday, local time. It included only persons killed instantly or dying of injuries suffered in accidents during those hours.

The nation's traffic deaths for the first nine months of this year totaled 24,580, or 90 every 24 hours. These figures included deaths occurring as long as months after the accidents in which the victims were injured.

CHINESE REDS FREE 30 YANK WAR PRISONERS

By DON WHITEHEAD

Northwest Front, Korea, Nov. 24 (AP)—Thirty wounded American prisoners from the ambushed U. S. Eighth Cavalry Regiment were released today by Chinese Reds. All but three were litter cases.

The Chinese released 27 others Wednesday, including Pfc Johnny R. Phillips of Brave (Greene county), Pa.

The 30 included one captain and three lieutenants. The men were taken to a village near the American lines Thursday night and placed in a Korean house.

A Chinese guard gave two men a letter to be delivered to U.S. lines.

Doughboys Removed

The letter instructed the American commander to send one litter jeep with a large flag on its right fender and with no arms or escort. The letter said the jeep would be permitted to shuttle the men back to the American lines.

Two prisoners took the letter and walked toward the American lines during the night. An American task force met them on the road.

The task force drove on ahead and found the remaining prisoners in the Korean house.

The liberated doughboys were taken to a clearing station. Reporters were forbidden to see them.

One of the prisoners told officers he was with a group surrounded and captured after a three-day fight with the Red Chinese and North Koreans near Unsan. He said the Reds had kept up persistent attacks day and night.

Fired Haystacks

The Americans set haystacks afire at night with tracer bullets. The burning hay illuminated the attacking Reds and the Americans were able to repulse them.

One night the Americans set Communist trucks ablaze with mortar shells. This light also silhouetted the night raiders.

The following day the Americans got orders to fight their way out the best they could. They tried. The Reds opened up with everything.

One prisoner said he was wounded and tried to swim a river, but turned back because he could not make it.

A north Korean soldier approached him. The American reached for his .45 and cocked it. But he was too weak to pull the trigger.

The Korean took him prisoner. He and other Americans were held by North Koreans for four days. Then Chinese Reds took charge of the group. They were given good treatment, the best the Chinese could offer, the prisoner said. They also were given some medical care.

One man was operated on by a Chinese doctor who removed shattered pieces of bone from his leg.

The Chinese told the Americans they believed the South Koreans had invaded North Korea and that the Americans intended to cross the Manchurian border. The prisoners were not given political lectures as were the men in the group of 27.

Merit System For Health Dept. Studied

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP) — Governor-elect John S. Fine—whose holiday has been marked by more work than play—is considering plans to place the Pennsylvania State Department of Health under a merit system.

Fine announced yesterday that he asked Dr. Gilson Colby Engel, Philadelphia public health expert, to come to this Florida resort next week to discuss recommendations made by the American Public Health institute to improve Pennsylvania's health service.

The recommendations included initiation of a merit system for the health department's employes.

Fine indicated also that Dr. Engel would bring with him a list of physicians he considers elegible to succeed Dr. Norris W. Vaux as state secretary of health.

SLOTH FOSSILS ARE DISCOVERED

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP) — The Academy of Natural Sciences says fossil remains found near Moorestown, N. J., prove the giant ground sloth—a huge bear-like mammal—made its home in the Philadelphia area 100,00 years ago.

The academy yesterday credited the important fossil discovery to James Ruhle a 14-year-old Moorestown high school student who saw the bones unearthed in an excavation for the New Jersey turnpike on the bank of Pennsauken creek.

Ruhle took the bones home and reported the find to Dr. Horace G. Richards, the Academy's curator of geology and paleontology.

Dr. Richards studied the fossils and then announced they were parts of the vertebra of the large, furcoated mammal related to the present day sloths of South America.

A few feet from the remains of the sloth, Young Ruhle also reported he found a collection of oyster shells estimated to be 50,000,000 years old.

This discovery, said Dr. Richards yesterday, proves further that the Atlantic ocean in prehistoric times covered virtually all of southern New Jersey.

Yugoslavia Ready To Defend Self

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Nov. 24 (AP) —If attack comes to Yugoslavia, Premier Marshal Tito says, "our people would know how to defend themselves and would give up their independence only at a dear price."

Firmly, he told the Associated Press in a Thanksgiving Day interview that Russia and her cominform satellites could not conquer Communist but independent Yugoslavia "except over our dead bodies."

Dressed in a dapper grey flannel suit, and chain smoking from a small pipe holding a domestic cigarette, the premier expressed his appreciation of American aid to his drought-stricken country. He said he hoped more would arrive soon.

Congress will shortly consider a bill proposed by President Ruman to provide Yugoslavia with food worth between $80,000,000 and $105,000,000 to tide the country over until the next harvest.

NEW KOREAN OFFENSIVE IS MOVE TO PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

We are told that the great offensive launched by General MacArthur with U.N. forces in northwest Korea is aimed at ending the war.

Achievement of that goal would in itself be a wonderful Christmas present for a war-weary world. But it strikes me that a quick victory might have an even more important result.

If the final phase of the conflict can be confined to Korean territory south of the Manchurian border, it might eliminate the danger of war between Red China and America. This would be on the basis of convincing a suspicious China that America has no designs on Manchuria.

Grave Development

Of course a large army of Chinese Comunists are in northwest Korea, just below the Korea-Manchuria boundary, to block the U.N. attack. But they claim they are there to defend their own border interests. Whether that claim is fact or fiction remains to be demonstrated, but if it is fact it would fit our theory.

One of the gravest developments which could grow out of the Korean upheaval would be war between China and the United States.

America doesn't want and couldn't afford such a development. A military victory still would leave her with a political black-eye in Asia, and she thus would lose even if she won.

No All-out War Signs

U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross countered by reading President Truman's statement stressing American friendship for the people of China, and stating that the United States had no intention of invading that country.

Moreover, Washington officals have indicated that they are ready to "talk turkey" with the Chinese Reds, and might even bargain. It is possible, for instance, that buffer zones on both sides of the Korean-Manchurian border might be arranged.

China has kept her designs very much to herself. However, there is no indication that she wants an all-out war with America. Without doubt she is working in partnership with Moscow, but there is a very real doubt whether General Mao, the Red Chinese leader, would allow himself to be pushed into a major war which he didn't want.

Sunday School Lesson

By

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

THE STEWARDSHIP OF MONEY
II Corinthians 9:6-8 Philippians 4:10-18

Memory selection: Each one must do as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. II Corinthians 9:7.

Since this and the two following assigned lessons are on the topic of stewardship, it is well for us to have a clear understanding of that important subject. A dictionary definition of a steward is, "One who manages the household affairs and expenditures of another." Applying that definition to religion it means that a Christian is a housekeeper for the Lord. All that one has, and all that one possesses in the way of abilities, natural gifts and resources have come from God, and belong to him. We are not owners but mere possessors for the period of a lifetime. This pertains to all that we have, and all that we are.

How About Money?

We think of money as representing material things. The Lord's claim as owner of the material is quite clear. "The cattle upon a thousand hills are mine . . . . the world is mine and the fullness therof." Psalm 50. That was said in terms cattlemen would understand. It applies equally to all men whatever the possessions may be: stocks, bonds, real estate—all forms of material wealth. These are among the practical things of life in a modern world. By use of them we indicate what our guiding principles are.

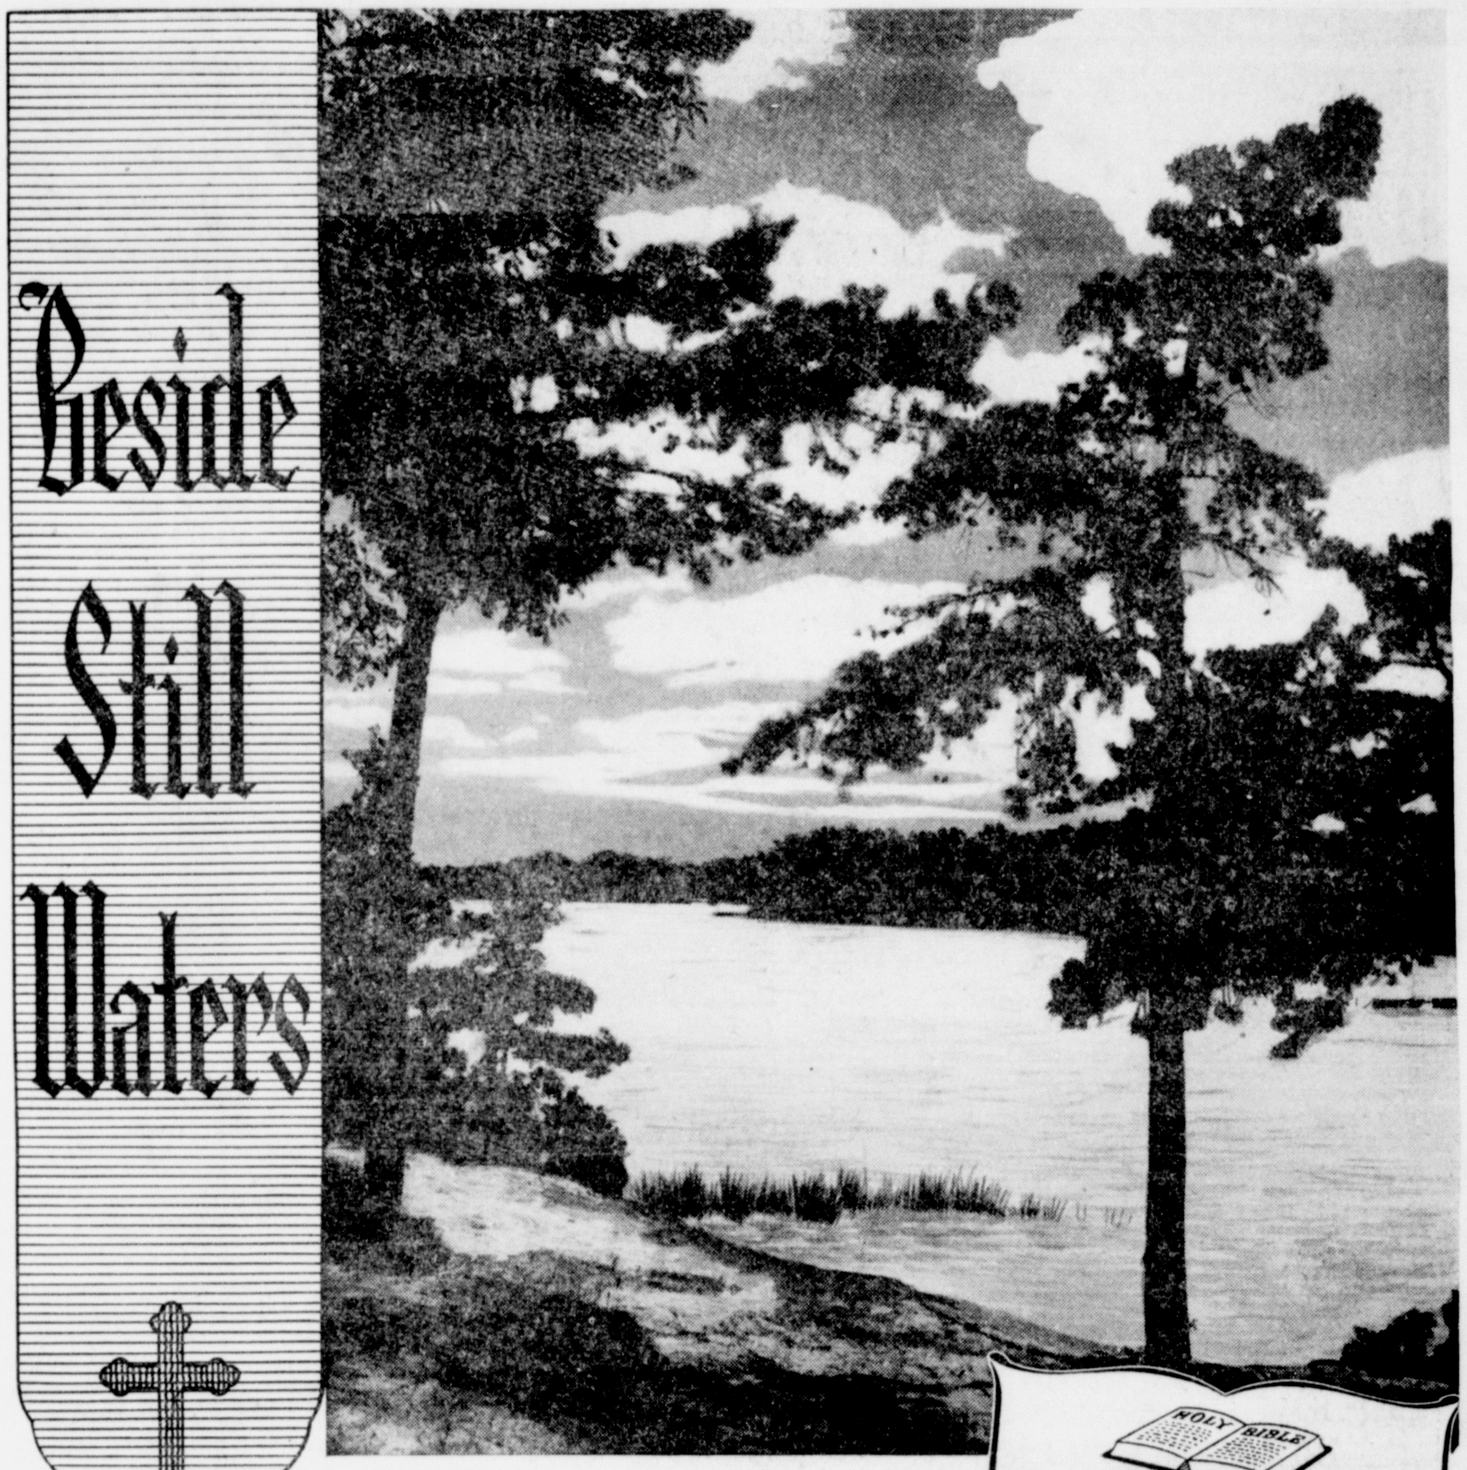

The use of money is one very real way by which we give expression to the religious faith by which we profess to live. "Faith without works is dead." So, genuine consecration and commitment to Christ will lead one to give, and give generously, to the cause of the Kingdom which it is the Christian's duty to build among men. And the promise is that God will "provide in abundance for every good work."

Incentive To Give

Why do people give of their means? Well, some give because others do, and it would not be "good form" not to give. Others give because it reduces their income tax. Many are "high-pressured" into giving. And various ways of raising money are tried. We recall the incident where a woman wrote to Horace Greely about the financial straits of her church. They had tried many way of raising money; suppers, festivals, fairs and the like. Perhaps, she queried in a letter, Mr. Greely could suggest something new. "Why not try religion?" the famous editor replied. That went to the heart of true giving.

The motive for true stewardship

Those stirring words of the Twenty-Third Psalm: He maketh me to lie down in green pastures . . . He leadeth me beside the still waters . . . He restoreth my soul!

The psalmist must have known the turmoil of life, even though he lived three thousand years ago. At least he had experienced the peace which comes upon a man when he escapes the bustling world and rests in the quiet stillness of nature's scene. And he caught its spiritual meaning!

A man's soul, like his body, needs to be restored. Just as sleep and recreation rebuild our physical strength, prayer and worship re-vitalize our spiritual being.

Thoughtfully, our forefathers taught us to spend part of each day in spiritual pursuits. Wisely, they set aside one day of the week for worship.

The Church provides opportunity for Sunday worship, and guidance in every-day devotion to God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

See GOP Slowdown On Truman Plans

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — A prospective Republican slowdown spelled trouble today for administration proposals in the lame duck congress beginning Monday.

Republican leaders were reported in private agreement that work in the expiring session ought to be held to a minimum. They will have added strength in both houses—and thus a larger voice in decisions—when the new Congress meets in January.

The GOP's reluctance to act might contribute difficulties to President Truman's demands for approval of an excess profits tax and for an extension of rent controls in the short session. It could help kill House-approved Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills, on which Mr. Truman has asked action.

There may be some questions about details, but Republicans are expected to go along with a forthcoming Presidential request for another big chunk of money to finance the fighting in Korea and to build up military forces. Included in this are likely to be additional funds for atomic developments.

Start Rebuilding In Flood Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Rebuilding and rehabilitation were the No. 1 problems in flood-ravaged areas of north-central California and western Nevada today. Waters were receding everywhere in the areas soaked or inundated by nine days of heavy rain and snow runoff, and three days of high floods.

Fifteen thousand Californians still were homeless. Fields and pastures along water courses still were inundated.

In Nevada, the job is one of cleaning up devastated Reno and Carson Valley areas. Streams that broke their banks early this week are back in their normal courses and residents are clearing debris with bulldozers.

Reno hardships are being alleviated by an emergency loan fund set up by businessmen of the divorce capital.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for the period Saturday, November 25, through Wednesday, November 29:

For eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York, and mid-Atlantic states: temperatures will average 10 degrees or so below normal; very cold weather over the weekend, will moderate Monday and Tuesday; snow flurries from Maryland northward Saturday and rain in south and rain or snow north portion Tuesday.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: temperature will average 10 degrees or so below normal; very cold weather over the week-end; will moderate Sunday night and Monday, but likely turn colder again Wednesday; snow flurries Saturday, with rain or snow again by Monday night and Tuesday.

Snowy Peaks Hold Off Rescue Crews

Moran, Wyo., Nov. 24 (AP) — The snow blasted peaks of stark Mount Moran continue today to thwart efforts to reach the wreckage of an airliner which rammed the peak Tuesday night.

Paul Judge, acting superintendent at Teton park, said last night that a rescue crew which started up the steep ridges yesterday afternoon will have to return to camp here because it is on the wrong trail.

He said that means that crews probably will not reach until Sunday the scene of the apparent deaths of 13 men and women and eight children of the new Tribes Mission religious organization.

A second crew left last night to overtake the five men in the first party. Planes also were to take off this morning to drop messages to the lead outfit to return to camp and start the tortuous climb again—this time on a ridge a bit south of its present trail.

SURPRISE PARTY

A birthday surprise party was recently held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Plank in honor of their son, Allen, Jr. The evening was spent in playing games with music furnished by Kermit Tressler, William Boyd and Allen Jlank, Jr. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Plank and children, Allen, Jr., and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chapman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stahley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stahley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lanceberger, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Fair and daughter, Kermit Tressler, Robert Rohrbaugh, Shirley Troxell, William Boyd, Carrie Hahn, Robert Eiker and Robert Harner. The guest of honor received many gifts.

Bronxville, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Alva Johnston, 62, magazine writer, author and winner of the Pulitzer prize as a newspaper reporter, died last night at Bronxville hospital. ORDER PROBES OF TRAIN CRASH WHERE 77 DIED

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and New York's mayor today took personal command of investigations into the railroad disaster that turned Thanksgiving into a day of mourning on Long Island.

The toll stood today at 77 dead and 332 injured. With three score victims still in hospitals and 15 of them in critical condition, it was feared the death list would increase.

Dewey and Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri cut short their post-election vacations and flew home—the governor from Miami Beach and the mayor from Cuba.

2,100 Terrorized

Both expressed horror and grief over the holiday eve crash of two crowded Long Island railroad commuter trains on the fringe of one of the city's coziest residential communities.

One electric train plowed into the rear of another, which was stalled about 10 miles from Times Square. With a deafening roar and blinding flash from the third rail, the front and rear cars of the two 12-car trains telescoped.

Death and terror struck the 2,100 passengers, many of them crowded in the aisles.

Nine-Hour Rescue Job

Vast rescue forces were on the scene minutes after the crash, about 6:30 p.m. (EST)

But it took nine hours to get the last mangled body out of the sickening death trap of twisted steel.

The motorman of the second train was killed, and the cause of the disaster is still uncertain.

Wednesday night's rush hour wreck—the nation's worst rail disaster in seven years—killed more than twice as many persons as the Long Island railroad collision nine months ago at Rockville Centre.

Orders Sweeping Probe

Thirty-three were killed and 125 injured in the February 17 head on collision of two trains at Rockville Centre—10 miles east of the Thanksgiving Eve wreck near Kew Gardens, Queens.

The second disaster on the bankrupt railroad brought a rising tide of public indignation, which had not died down since the Rockville Centre tragedy.

Gov. Dewey ordered the State Public Service Commission to investigate the wreck and "the entire management of the railroad." With Dewey in charge, the commission scheduled a meeting today.

Need "Drastic Action"

Dewey said the crash demanded "drastic action" to protect the railroad's 300,000 daily riders.

Before leaving Cuba, Mayor Impellitteri ordered appointment of a four-man city committee to investigate. Arriving home last night, he said he would confer with the committee today.

The mayor said he was determined that the Long Island must operate at least within the city, with all "necessary automatic safeguards, no matter what the cost shall be."

The railroad has a modern block signal system but, except for tracks in tunnels, the system operates with lights only and there are no automatic brake trippers like those on the city subways.

NINE KILLED OVER HOLIDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Nine Pennsylvanians were killed in highway accidents over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Eight-year-old Donald Krahel, of Selinsgrove R. D. 2, was killed yesterday when an automobile struck a truck on which the boy was riding. An automobile struck and killed Paul F. Henkle, 60, of Turtle Creek, as he walked along Route 19 in front of an inn where he was employed.

Samuel Kluko, Pitcairn R. 2, was injured fatally when his car struck an angle iron jutting from a curb. A deputy coroner said the angle iron pierced the floor of Kluko's automobile and struck the motorist.

Elmer Bair, about 55, father of five children, was killed by an automobile last night as he crossed the street in front of his home at Orwigsburg.

Four persons were killed in a highway crash near Harrisburg on Route 22 Thanksgiving Eve. The victims were the Rev. Guy McIntyre, 50, of Richeyville; his wife, Edna, 45, their son, John, 15, and a passenger, Shirley Carpenter, 14, Daisytown.

Thomas Saunders, 66, was killed as he crossed a street in Philadelphia.

In addition to the highway accidents, a fire claimed the life of a 34-year-old man in Philadelphia last night. Firemen recovered the body of Edward Haines after flames had destroyed a small shack in which Haines lived with another man. In Reading, a 38-year-old fireman, Franklin Stam, collapsed and died after helping to battle a blaze that routed 250 persons from an apartment house.

Prof. Laurence Burkhalter, instructor of band and orchestral instruments at Bluffton college, Bluffton, O., will present a violin concert this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Fairfield Mennonite church. Prof. Burkhalter was born in India of missionary parents. He received his licentiate diploma from the Trinity College of Music, London, in 1939. In 1947 he received his bachelor of school music degree from Bluffton college and in 1949 his master's degree in violin at Northwestern university. He is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary music fraternity.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24 (AP)—A football game between the University of Pittsburgh freshmen and Penn State freshmen was cancelled today because of severe weather conditions. The cancellation came less than three hours before the game was slated to get underway. Subfreezing temperatures and a snowstorm hit the Pittsburgh district shortly after 3 a.m.

Taipei, Formosa, Nov. 24 (AP)—Chinese Nationalist intelligence reports said today 100,000 Chinese Red troops from the Shanghai area have reached the Manchurian capital, Mukden—"probably on their way to the front." A Defense Ministry spokesman said the "evident reason" was to reinforce Gen. Lin Piao's Chinese Fourth Field Army forces along the Manchurian-Korean border.

Philip Murray Gets 11th CIO Election

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—The CIO winds up its 12th national convention today by handing Philip Murray his 11th term as president. Murray's election by acclamation was only a formality.

Only one top-level change appeared to be in the cards. Michael Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, was slated to replace John Green as one of the nine CIO vice presidents.

The executive board of the Marine and Shipbuilders has demanded that Green not run again for the presidency of the union. Green reportedly has acceded to the demand. His union will hold its convention and election in Boston in January.

The complaint against Green has been that the membership of the Marine and Shipbuilders Union has dropped off in recent months. One source said the executive board felt a more vigorous leadership would help stem the decline.

Huge UN Army

before Christmas.

"The justice of our cause," the supreme commander said, "and promise of early completion of our mission is reflected in the morale of troops and commanders alike."

MacArthur ordered the drive in the northwest toward the Yalu river border of Manchuria the day after Tokyo was flooded with peace rumors. He told his frontline commanders:

Makes Xmas Promise

"Tell the boys when they reach the Yalu they are going home. I want to make good on my statement that they are going to eat Christmas dinner at home."

Later MacArthur flew over enemy lines and along the winding Yalu. Then he returned to Tokyo. He was escorted by jet fighters.

Combat troops of three Allied corps jumped off in freezing weather Friday morning along an 80-mile front. The U. S. 2nd and 25th Divisions and a Turkish brigade quickly moved up to take over a 25-mile sector in the middle of the line.

The advance—covered by Allied planes—met little opposition. There were gains also on the northeast Korean front. The northwest push began from a line 45 to 60 miles south of the Red border.

Make 8-Mile Gain

A tank-led U. S. 24th Division task force drove eight miles west on the road to Sinuiju, entryway for Chinese Communist armies in the extreme northwest. Sinuiju was in flames today, presumably from new Allied air attacks.

The 24th Division reached Naechongjong, on the same route it traveled four weeks ago to within 14 miles of the Manchurian border before Chinese Reds forced its withdrawal.

On the right flank, two columns of the Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division marched unopposed on Taechon, major Communist base and key road junction on highways leading to the vital Suiho hydroelectric development. The columns were seven miles south and southeast of Taechon.

Sunday School Lesson

must have its roots in religion. Gratitude and love must be the incentives. Gratitude to God for the numerous blessings one receives from Him; love for God and love for our fellowmen. "I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger," writes St. Paul. That is to say, he could have done without the gifts sent by his converts. It was the remembrance of him that was so heartily welcomed.

The grace of generous giving should spring from the love of Christ, who gave Himself in service, for man, and ultimately sealed salvation for all on the Cross. Then that twin love, the love for the people. He must be dull indeed, who does not hear the cry of suffering fellowmen; or hearing, does not give what he can for their relief. Occasionally we are told to give generously to combat Communism. Let us give because it is Christian, and a righteous God will supply the fruits of the giving.

Giving And Getting

Certainly, one does not give to get something in return, if he gives honestly. But there is a return of which the giver may be quite unconscious. Paul speaks of this when he refers to the gift brought him: "Not that I seek the gift; but I seek the fruit which increases to your credit." There is a reward in the way of a refined and enriched character; something that does not appear in the miser or niggardly giver. It is with giving as Shakespeare said of mercy: "It is twice blessed; it blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

Cheerful and concientious giving is not only pleasing to God but rightly brings a quiet joy to the giver. There is a further reward, as Jesus said, for those who give the cup of cold water in His name. The essence o stewardship is found in the familiar hymn:

"We give Thee but Thine own,
Whate'er the gift may be;
All that we have is Thine alone,
A trust, O Lord, from Thee."

Questions On The S. S. Lesson

1. What is stewardship?
2. Who owns money?
3. What does true stewardship prove?
4. What are incentives to give?
5. Does giving bring rewards?

Answers

1. Taking care of things for the owner.
2. God.
3. The reality of our faith.
4. Gratitude to God. Love for God and our fellowmen.
5. Yes, joy and nobler character.

Judge Expects To Retire Soon At 80

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24 (AP)—Nelson McVicar, who will be 80 in January, says he plans to retire as judge of the Federal District court of Pennsylvania about February 1.

Judge McVicar said it will be an "active retirement," permitting him to continue in an advisory capacity and assume "less strenuous duties."

He is the last Republican among the five men on the western Pennsylvania Federal bench. His retirement will permit President Truman to name a new judge, subject to Senate confirmation.

Democratic leaders already are considering the list of persons who may be qualified for the $15,000-a-year lifetime job. Such a list might include William S. Rahauser, Allegheny county district attorney, and Miss Anne X. Alpern, Pittsburgh city solicitor. Judges James L. O'Toole and Harry M. Montgomery of Allegheny county Common Pleas court would be qualified for such an appointment and, among others, the name of Premo J. Columbus, assistant U. S. attorney, might be considered.

King Richard's Christmas Feasts

Once upon a medieval Yuletide, King Richard III of England celebrated at Litchfield—and during the festivities 2,000 oxen and 200 tons of wine were consumed.

Of course, the feudal set-up provided the great lords with the wherewithal for magnificance—the lords received gifts from their tenants and kings received gifts from their nobles; and the graduated scale for giving and receiving was as well ascertained as the quiddam honorarium of any barrister or physician.

Queen Elizabeth received a large part of her wardrobe as gifts from her courtiers, and if the quality or quantity was not satisfactory, the donors were unceremoniously informed of the situation.

Royal Christmas Gift

When Henry III entertained a thousand knights, peers, and assorted nobles who came to attend the Yuletide marriage of the Princess Margaret, his majesty received a royal Christmas gift of 2,700 pounds, plus 600 fat oxen from the Archbishop of York.

With similar assistance, whether exhorted or given in the spirit of generosity appropriate to the season, his majesty could well afford to give Christmas feasts for the poor like the one given in Westminster Hall in 1248, which lasted a week.

Striving to outdo his predecessors and give his successors something to shoot at, Henry VIII kept one Yuletide at which the cost of gold cloth that was used amounted to 600 pounds alone. He had tents erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace. Knights came out of the tents to joist in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers, covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers, emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests.

Preparation for the feasting on such occasions is perfectly appalling to epicures of the 20th century—and can only be vaguely comprehended by considering that Richard II normally employed 2,000 cooks to prepare food for the 10,000 persons who dined—irrespective of special feasting—at his expense every day.

Christmas Evokes Spirit Of Trust

Indicative of the integrity and trustfulness prevailing throughout the world at Christmas time, people of Holland often entrust gifts to total strangers requesting the passerby to leave the package on such-and-such a doorstep.

Half-way across the globe, Negro families in Virginia long have observed the table-covered-with-a sheet custom. The dining room table is covered with a sheet. Names of everyone in the household are written on slips of paper and pinned to the sheet. Gifts are sneaked under the sheet when everybody is supposed to be asleep, and even the youngest child refrains from 'peeking' until the gifts are unveiled Christmas morning.

LUCIA DAY IS BEGINNING OF SWEDISH XMAS

Celebration of Lucia day on December 13 inaugurates the Christmas season in Sweden. It takes its name from St. Lucia, or Lucy, martyred for her faith and virginity in Syracuse in 304, A. D., and venerated by the church each December 13.

The prettiest blonde in every home, office, factory, village and town is elected a "Lucia" and visits the sick, leads carnivals and processions and attends banquets and balls accompanied by her "handmaidens."

The ancient custom coincides with the winter solstice, when the sun swings toward the earth once more and the days begin to lengthen.

In addition to beauty, other qualifications for "Lucias" or "light queens" are fair hair, a nice disposition and high character.

Dressed in long white robes, wearing crowns of lighted candles (the traditional costume for "Lucias") the girls present gifts and the traditional Lucy day coffee and rolls to hospital patients, etc. The queen and her maidens, enthroned in a star spangled horsedrawn chariot, lead festive processions around the village squares and through city streets.

Parade participants depict alternate scenes from Sweden's picturesque Lapland and the Wild West of the United States, while musicians in multi-colored costume alternate playing northern folk tunes and American jazz.

Wax From Candles Calls For Caution

With so many candles placed about the home to give a festive air during the holiday season, candle wax drippings on rugs, tablecloths, and mantels are almost inevitable.

Wax spots on rugs can usually be removed successfully by first scraping off as much wax as possible with a dull knife and then sponging with carbon tetrachloride.

When you scrape up the wax, be careful not to injure the yarns. If the candle was colored and a stain remains, try sponging it lightly with a liquid made of two parts of water and one part of denatured (rubbing) alcohol.

As a precaution against fading, test this mixture first on an inconspicious part of the rug.

Wax that has run down from candleholders onto your best linen tablecloth can be removed by the same method of first scraping—being very careful not to injure the fiber or thread—and then sponging with carbon tetrachloride. If the stain is colored, use the solution suggested for a colored spot on a rug, after you've used carbon tetrachloride. Again you are urged to test an inconspicious spot for possible fading from use of the solution.

UNITED STATES MEETING PLACE OF YULE CAROL

In towns and cities throughout America, in churches, public squares and along home-lined streets, over millions of radios and public address systems come the strains of the world's Yuletide melodies—old as bygone centuries, young as "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas. . . ."

The United States, meeting place for carols from all Christendom, contributes yearly to the traditions of Christmas music by writing new songs and popularizing old ones.

The carols of Europe arrived with the peoples who came to America to settle. "O Come All Ye Faithful" (Adeste Fideles), eventually translated into 119 languages and dialects, belonged to no one nation but was the common gift of the continent. From Germany, came Luther's hymn for children, "Away in a manger no crib for a bed. . . ." England sent "God rest you, merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay. . . ." And France provided the beautiful "Cantique de Noel" or "O Holy Night."

Wrote of Three Men

Three American composers did much to revive the ancient custom by writing new songs which are, today, among the world's best beloved carols.

"It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" was the inspiration of Edmund H. Sears, a Massachusetts Unitarian minister, in 1849. Less than 10 years later Dr. John Henry Hopkins, Jr., Episcopal rector from Williamsport, Pa., composed both the words and music for "We Three Kings of Orient Are."

Perhaps the best-known American carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," was written in 1868 by Phillips Brooks in Philadelphia. The young Episcopal minister, later bishop of Massachusetts, was inspired to write the poem by the memory of a trip to the Holy Land two years earlier. The rollicking "Jingle Bells," though non-religious in theme, also came from the pen of a churchman, John Pierpont, and has enjoyed almost a century of popularity.

Ornaments Replace Wreath For Doors

Instead of the conventional wreath on the outside of the door why not string some bells and tree ornaments on narrow baby ribbon and hang from a huge red bow?

Make your door and window frames bright and cheerful by framing them with ribbon and sprigs of holly. You can hang the ribbon in festoons across the curtains and tie at the sides in wide sash bows for colorful effect.

BRAZIL SHOWS MIRACLE PLAYS

Brazilian Christmas festivities embrace an aggregation of modern observances entwined with ancient traditions brought over from the mother country of Portugal.

The Christmas season in Brazil begins on Christmas Eve and ends with Epiphany on January 6. And because it is really summertime (south of the equator) festivities and entertainments appropriate to summertime hold sway throughout the season.

Miracle plays have always been performed in adoration of the Holy Child. From olden times, the plays have had all the dramatic fervor of a religious performance together with the gracious hospitality of a social function.

The scene is at once solemn and fantastic, with costumes bedecked with feathers, spangles, jewels and what-not sparkling in a setting of luxurious tropical foliage and blossoms.

Out of the great variety of miracle plays, all on different themes, of which many are in the form of elaborate dances meticulously performed and accompanied by the music of an orchestra, the dance of the Four Parts of the World may be cited as a typical example.

The roles are enacted by girls dressed for the part and, in, succession, Europe, Asia, Africa and America declaim. The discussion finally involves their respective rights to make obligation to the DOLLIES ALL . . . Barbara Johnson (left) and Patricia Abel, both orphans, are in a virtual paradise, seated amid so many playmates. The dolls, more than 800 of them, were dressed by volunteer workers for distribution to charitable organizations as Christmas gifts.

Christmas Packages Need Gay Wrappings

Half of the gift is the wrapping—let's make the covering as gay as the gift inside.

Christ Child. Eventually, Father Time appears and settles the dispute to the satisfaction of all concerned.

For the girl who likes to sew, material for a dress in a fabric-wrapped box, rick-rack for the ribbon and spools of thread with big buttons for the decoration create an unusual package. If you give yarn for a sweater, use one skein for the big bow.

Disguise a flat box of letter paper as a desk pad. Use a real blotter on top with corners of metallic paper.

Why not use a necktie knot in decorating the box containing a tie? Fasten the ends of the ribbon under the lid about ¼ way down: bring to center: tie the knot and shape the ends tie fashion. Use a dark blue, wine or green ribbon about one and one-half inches wide. These are attractive used on a striped or plaid paper.

Or the package might resemble a tiny suitcase wrapped in paper with the ends bound in decorative tape. Add a handle and identification tag.

Tibet's only communications with the oustide world are a few state-owned wireless sets and a single telephone line to northern India.

BOOKMART STATIONERS GIFTS

By NANCY PLYLER

The small boy pressed his face closer to the window. Outside the snow lay a white blanket over the community, and darkness had drawn its curtain upon the day's activities. Johnny had been standing there since dinner.

His mother and father sat nearby. "He hardly touched his dinner!" his mother explained.

"It's too bad! He was very fond of that dog," his father said seriously.

"I'm so sorry this happened. It's just two weeks until Christmas and there's so much to do. Scouring the neighborhood for the dog at this time will interfere with our other plans," the mother said.

While they were talking, the doorbell rang. The wife went to answer it and found two teen-age boys on the porch.

"Yes?" the wife questioned.

The boys seemed to be out of breath from running. "Mrs. Rice, we saw two men take your dog into their car. They drove away with him," one of the boys explained.

"Did Santa Claus send him back to me, Mommy?" was all he asked.

"What? When?" the wife was beside herself.

Search Is Started

"About two hours ago. We were taking the groceries to Mrs. Jane; we couldn't turn back to tell you. Besides the car was gone before we knew what had happened. I think we'd know them if we saw them again," the boys finished.

"Don, will you come here?" Mrs. Rice called to her husband. "Now, will you please tell my husband what you have just told me?" she turned to the boys.

They reiterated the same facts to Mr. Porter.

His first statement was, "Don't say anything about this to Johnny."

He questioned the boys further, thought for a time, then asked the boys if they would agree to go around the neighborhood with him to see if he could trace the men.

Agreeing to this, the two boys left with Mr. Porter.

Mrs. Porter was sitting in the living-room when Mr. Porter returned. Her eyes questioned what her lips could not say.

"No luck!" he sunk into a chair. "I don't really think there would be any use to go out and look for them. There just wasn't anything else to do. Poor kid! With Christmas coming on and everything," Mr. Porter was very solemn.

On Christmas morning Mrs. Porter was up very early. The Christmas tree was trimmed to perfection. The wreaths were hung. The living-room was very picturesque. Johnny's stocking was hung over the mantle; it was brimming to the top. All kinds of toys that would delight the heart of a five-year-old boy were under the tree. His mother took one last look before she called to her husband to awaken Johnny.

Spirit of Christmas

A sleepy, tousled-haired boy crept down the steps to behold the wonders of another Christmas day. After viewing the scene, he gave one leap to the hobby-horse that waited for him. By now he was no longer sleepy, but had mustered energy to open all his gifts without any help from his parents.

And for a time Johnny seemed so engrossed in the many toys that he never mentioned about his dog. But their hopes were short-lived! For while they were planning for the day, they noticed that Johnny was watching at the window. Mr. and Mrs. Porter looked at each other and knew that they had lost in their endeavor to make Christmas Day a happy time for their boy.

When Mrs. Porter was nearly on the verge of tears, Johnny gave one scream from the window. They ran to it and looked out, saw a small white dog scurrying up the path. Mr. Porter never opened a door more gleefully and the dog dashed into the room, into the arms of his master. Johnny was laughing and crying at the same time. "Did Santa Claus send him back to me, Mommy?" was all he asked.

"Yes, dear," she whispered.

"The dog either broke away; or, the spirit of Christmas must have worked in those men's hearts," Mrs. Porter smiled to her husband.

CHRISTMAS IS REFLECTED IN TOWNS' NAMES

Santa Claus, Indiana; Bethlehem, and Christmas, Fla., are a few of the more familiar post offices which each year handle a flood of mail from senders wishing to obtain Yuletide postmarks.

Although the federal post office department has now barred extra flourishes by local postmasters using Christmas symbols and mottoes, a town's own holiday name can still give that festive touch to a greeting or package of toys.

Indiana's Santa Clause is the only town so designated in the United States. The privilege is reserved to its post office by Congressional act. There is, however, Santa, Idaho. There is also only one Christmas—the one, in Florida—plus a Christmas Cove, Maine.

Seven Bethlehems

On the other hand, seven Bethlehems answer the seasonal roll call: they can be found in Connecticut, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, New Hampshire, and Pennsylvania. The Bethlehem, Conn., post office was one of several stations that figured in headlines recently on the use of especially-designed cancellation stamps bearing the now-forbidden Christmas tree decoration. The town's population is about 350.

There are two Noels—in Virginia and Missouri. Last year Missouri's Noel post office reported handcancellation of a record 650,000 pieces of Christmas mail—800 for each of the town's residents.

Besides specific Christmas names that dot the land there are dozens that call up Biblical or holiday associations. There is Advent, W. Va., for the Nativity. Kentucky, has a Mary, and Oregon and Utah a Joseph each.

Joy In 4 States

One Wiseman is found ni Alaska and another in Arkansas. The third, it may be assumed, is in Wisemantown, Ky. There are five Stars and four Shepherds. West Virginia contributes Goodwill; Missouri, Peace Valley, and there is Joy in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, and Texas.

For the Christmas party, Turkey is available in four states, Cranberry in three. Kentucky has a Mistletoe. Six states count an Evergreen; seven a Pine, and three a Holly.

Louisiana comes up with Trees, Alabama with Candle; and to top the decorations, Pennsylvania has its Angels.

CHRISTMAS CAMELIA

By JOHN SCOTT DOUGLAS

Stenographers hovered around as Martha Manning unwrapped the package that had just reached the law offices. There were startled gasps of admiration when the paper fell away, revealing a potted camelia. Large and pure white, except for crimson-tbuched petals, its heart was filled with delicate golden stamens.

"Oh, how beautiful!" Tessie gasped. "Who sent it, Marta?"

"My boy friend," Marta said, her tone warm with happiness.

"I didn't know camelias bloomed in time for Christmas," said Bess.

"The Dal Baugura does," said Marta. "But it's all crimson. This must be a new hybrid that Colby Blake stocked for the Christmas trade."

Could Colby have developed it himself? she wondered. She remembered the day, when he had been showing her around his nursery, that she started to enter a small, new lath house at the back. "Don't go in there, Marta!" And then he'd been embarrassed as only a big, redheaded outdoor man can be embarrassed by his own rudeness. "Forgive me for speaking so sharply, darling. You'll understand, some day."

Broken Engagements

In the two years since then, he'd never explained his strange words. It was but one of the things that had marred a more perfect understanding. The many broken dates were another. Ergagements he could not keep because a truckload of plants must suddenly be delivered, or a customer must be seen about the laying out of a new garden.

"For you, Marta," said the switchboard girl. The girls dispersed as she picked up the phone. She heard Colby's voice.

"I feel terribly to beg off on another date, darling. But Roberts sprained his back lifting a tubbed tree, and had to go home. About twenty customers are coming in to pick up Christmas plants this evening, and someone must be here. Let me explain about that camelia—"

Sick with disappointment, she said, "Never mind," and hung up. Tears pricked her eyes. Wasn't she ever as important as a customer?

"Garral Ladd wants you to take a letter," said the switchboard girl.

Any of the other girls would have gone into a tizzy if he'd suggested a date. Only Marta had had the chance to refuse him, not once but many times. For to her, he wasn't quite real.

Named For Her

Now, with a confident smile, he dictated: "To do the town on Christmas Eve with a lovely young blonde like you would make this my most wonderful Christmas. Will you say, 'Yes'? Devotedly, Garral Ladd."

"To whom shall I address it?"

"To Miss Marta Manning."

Her cheeks grew warm. On the point of refusal, she remembered the broken date. "I'd be glad to, Mr. Ladd."

That evening, on her way home to dress, she stopped at a nursery to buy a small tree for her apartment. The tree, she recalled with a pang of disappointment, that Colby had promised to bring when he called. A woman loaded with bundles was leaving the nursery with a plant identical to the one Marta had received that morning.

"Isn't it lovely?" the woman asked, noting Marta's glance. "It's the new hybrid developed by the Blake nursery." And she told Marta its name.

Marta stood stunned when the woman left. Then, abruptly, she turned back to her car, thinking, "I can call Garral Ladd later."

She found Colby wrapping red paper around a pot holding one of the new Christmas camelias.

"Can you forgive me, Colby?" she asked humbly. "I'll help wait on customers so we can be together on Christmas Eve. You've made me so proud and happy."

"It was the only name for a flower so beautiful, darling."

She felt a touch of awe as she stared at the camelia he was wrapping. How like Colby to express his love by naming it the Marta Manning!

Letters To Santa From World Over

Postoffice officials in Santa Claus, Ind., are accustomed to overloaded sacks of mail during the pre-Christmas rush. Senders want their cards and gifts stamped with the famous Santa Claus postmark, plus thousands of wistful letters "Santa Claus Santa Claus, Ind."

And then there is the annual crop of "Santa Claus" letters written by youngsters in far-away places who haven't heard about Santa's permanent address in Indiana, U.S.A. At least a dozen versions of the time honored note-in-the-bottle story find their way into metropolitan newspapers every year.

The notes, sealed in small bottles and securely tied to Christmas trees, are discovered by Christmas tree dealers, housewives; and even enlisted men at naval centers and military barracks; they come from places like Renous, a village in New Brunswick, Canada, boasting a total population of 85 inhabitants.

The notes range from the wistful to the desperate, requesting such things as a mamma doll, a sled, a sweater, or a pair of overshoes.

There Was No Paved Highway For That First Christmas Trip

There was no macadam highway leading from Nazareth to Bethlehem when Mary and Joseph undertook their memorable journey nearly 2,000 years ago.

As far as routes were concerned there were three. The western route led along the sea-coast and through the plain of Sharon. This route was unpopular with pious folk like Mary and Joseph who shunned the heathen cities, rowdy travelers, etc., as much as possible.

The shortest route, via the fruitful plains of Esdraelon into the mountains of Samaria and through Shechem and Bethel, was not very popular either. The road was tolerable, but steep; however, the Jews had little use for the Samaritans, and vice versa.

The Jordan route, which descended into the Jordan valley and followed the river's east bank around Jericho, was favored by the majority of Galilean travelers who for one reason or another (the Passover, etc.) went down to Jerusalem at regular intervals and knew their way around as well as suburbanites know their way around modern metropolitan areas.

If the Jordan route was a little round-about, it was fairly level—and steeped in Jewish history, from the shadow of Mount Tabor where Saul in desperation sought his 'witch' of Endor, to the tomb a little before Bethlehem where the first Joseph buried his beloved Rachel.

It is fairly certain that Mary and Joseph did not choose the western route when they planned their very special journey. Whether they chose to go by way of Shechem and Bethel, or around the walled city of Jericho may never be determined definitely.

But, the distance—nearly 100 miles—was, in any case, unrelenting and conquered only by persistent plodding. And when Mary was too tired to go another step, Joseph took the packs upon his own shoulders so that she might ride the little donkey which trudged faithfully at his side.

Verily indeed, did Mary appreciate the shelter of the stable that night—no one could have been more grateful or more happy than Mary. And she brought forth her first-born son, and laid Him in a manger.

More To Mistletoe Than You'd Think

In America the high-hanging mistletoe is treasured chiefly for its power to invite a kiss from a pretty girl. The bulk of the holiday decoration comes from the Carolinas, Tennessee and the southwest where off-season agricultural workers gather the branches for shipment throughout the nation.

The white-berried plant also serves as a winter food supply for mocking birds, robins and wax-wings. These small birds are responsible for the spread of the tree-damaging parasite. After eating the berries the birds clean their beaks on the trees, firmly planting the mistletoe seeds they do not eat. The tap root of the seedling pierces the tenderest portions of the tree—young branches or buds—and the tree sap is drawn into the thick leaves and translucent berries of the guest plant.

Though the mistletoe plays the dual characters of destructive killer and promoter of love, superstition has it that the plant can switch roles in a twinkle. For instance, if the yuletide mistletoe bough isn't removed from a house by Candlemass Eve (February 1), each leaf left will produce a goblin to plague the careless occupants during the year.

LIFE OF LORD BY DICKENS IS MOVING STORY

Last year, the heretofore unpublished Dickens' manuscript "The Life of Our Lord" was presented to the world.

Written 100 years earlier for the exclusive audience of the author's own children, it is a child's life of Christ—a simple, moving narrative, understandable even to a child and yet touched by that incomparable Dickens genius which insures its place by the side of the famous "Christmas Carol" among the great masterpieces of Christmas literature.

Because he felt such deep veneration for the life and lessons of our Savicur, he left instructions that this particular manuscript should not be commercialized. Thus, the manuscript was a precious family secret for 85 years. But when Sir Henry Fielding Dickens, the author's youngest child, died in 1933, it was finally brought forth and sold for the staggering amount of $10,000— or, $15 per word.

Purchased by the London Daily Mail, the manuscript became a literary event of the first magnitude, destined to be read and cherished forever wherever thoughtful parents, like Dickens himself, want their children to know something about the history of Jesus Christ. For, according to Dickens:

"Everybody ought to know about Him. No one ever lived who was so good, so kind, so gentle, and so sorry for people who did wrong, or were in any way ill or miserable, as He was.

"And as He is now in heaven, where we all hope to go, and all meet each other after we are dead, and there be happy always together, you can never think what a good place heaven is, without knowing who He was and what He did."

Tradition Of Poppy

The poppy loaf, traditionally a part of Christmas Eve supper in Lithuania, is a small loaf made of bread dough and baked hard in a bread pan. When cool, the loaves are dipped in a solution made of water and sugar and ground poppy seed which is also used as a traditional holiday beverage.

Tradition prescribes that the poppy seed should be ground in an iron kettle using an ax handle as a mallet, and no Lithuanian would think of grinding seeds for the Christmas poppy loaves by any other method.

POINSETTIA IS AMERICA'S OWN

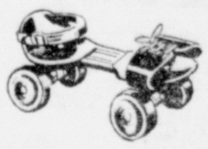

While it seems rather odd, it certainly is interesting that America has given the world its most beloved Christmas plant — the poinsettia. This plant, like so many others of our best flowers, is native to tropical America. The florist has been able to propagate it and grow it in a small pot, so that, with its flaming red bracts or leaves, it makes a most desirable Christmas plant.

There is a sentiment that goes with most Christmas plants — we hate to throw them away. What can be done with the poinsettia? Most of us figure that it is easier and cheaper to throw it away. However, if properly handled, it will bloom for you a second or even a third or fourth year. You can even propagate it, if you wish, and have more plants.

Give the plant a resting period around the middle of February. The florist simply lays it under the benches, but you will probably put it in your basement. Water it occasionally — enough to keep the wood from wilting, but no more. Then, around the latter part of May or early in June, bring it out, cut it back rather severely, and repot and water it enough to keep it it. You can then put it outside if you're growing. Of course, if you have a wish in the shade of a tree or shrub, nice, warm, sandy spot, you might plant it right in the ground, but most of us prefer to leave it in the pot.

SANTA HIT AS "SUGAR DADDY"

Assailing the Santa Claus myth as 'foolish fiction' and rival of the Holy Child, the Rev. John S. Martin, editor of the Catholic Review, declared in a 1949 editorial that Santa the saint has been lost in Santa the sugar daddy—and that the whole idea is bad psychology and bad pedagogy.

"Our children learn about the reindeer, but have never heard of the ox and the ass," Father Martin continued and recommended that we:

"Leave the man in the red suit to those who have nothing better . . . for whom life must end in disillusion and despair."

Father Martin's sentiments are reminiscent of Martin Luther's vigorous campaign against neglect of the central idea of Christmas, which is the birth of Jesus. So, German children have been taught that the Christkind brings the presents—Christkind being depicted as the messenger of the Infant Jesus sent earthward at Christmastime to bring happiness to good children.

The modern conception of Santa Clause is, of course, 99 per cent fictional and strictly American. But the spirit of generosity and thoughtfulness as typified by Santa Claus is neither sugar daddy-ish nor essentially American. Unfortunately not all children who await Santa have learned from their mothers' lips the story of the Holy Child.

KRIS KRINGLE IS NOT SANTA

Popular notion seems to imply that Kris Kringle is a German term of endearment for Santa Claus. Just what motivates this idea is not at all clear, since Kris Kringle is really a modification of Christkind who, although endowed by German legend as a gift-giver, resembles Santa Claus not in the least.

Santa Claus, as we know him in America, never really caught on in Germany. St. Nicholas comes around on his liturgical feast day—December 6—with his pockets bulging with candy and nuts and trinkets. Well and good, but German parents maintain, as did their predecessors of the Reformation era, that the central idea of Christmas, the birth of Jesus, should dominate the observances.

Nor in Christkind depicted as the Infant Jesus himself, but rather as his messenger and gift-bearer who comes to earth at Christmastime to bring happiness to good children. The Christkind is usually represented as a child dressed in white robes, wearing a golden crown and having big, golden wings.

'NIGHT BEFORE' POET 'ASHAMED'

Everyone knows and loves the poem which begins—

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;—

but the man who wrote it, Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, was ashamed of it and would not allow it to be published under his name for more than 20 years.

Dr. Moore, an aloof professor of Greek and Oriental literature in the Episcopal Seminary in New York, wrote the poem on Christmas eve 1822 and read it to his seven children.

He had not planned for the poem to go further than his own family, but a relative who was visiting the Moores put a copy in her diary. The next year the relative's father sent it to a newspaper.

Other newspapers printed the jingles and they quickly became known all over the country. The dignified Dr. Moore was embarrassed and considered it beneath a man of his scholastic standing to be the author of children's jingles.

Twenty-two years later, however, he finally publicly admitted authorship of the jingles and it was published in book form under his name for the first time.

January Draft Quota Is Given

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—The state Selective Service system has announced a January draft quota of 2,718 Pennsylvanians.

The figure represents a 2,045 decrease from the record 4,763 slated for induction this month. It is 75 more than December's call of 2,643.

The nation's quota for January is 40,000 state Draft Director Henry M. Gross said Tuesday.

The Britash Act of Union joined England and Scotland in 1707.

When Father Carved the... BOAR'S HEAD

What roast turkey is to Christmas dinner today, the boar's head was to the Yuletide feasting of Medieval England.

Preparation for the feasting began during September or October when the boar's flesh was at its best. Hunters tracked the animal down with well-trained packs of boarhounds and it was dangerous sport, attacking the ferocious beast with spears or surrounding him and driving him into a net.

His ear was his most vulnerable spot, but before the dogs could get a grip on it and pin him down, his sharp teeth often wounded—sometimes even killed—the hunter and his dogs.

Nevertheless, the pluckier the boar, the louder his praises were sung, the merrier the feasting, when his head was borne to the Christmas table.

XMAS LEGENDS ARE NUMEROUS

Multitudinous legends claim innumerable origins for the Christmas tree. One better known legend concerns an early Christian missionary, sometimes identified as St. Wilfred, who once came upon a group of Druids preparing to make a human sacrifice under a large oak.

He had the oak cut down and, as it fell, a young fir tree sprang up in its place. The missionary seized the evidence and made the fir tree a symbol of the new faith: henceforth, the tribesmen were to set this symbol of immortality in the halls of their lodges at Christmastime and surround it with feasting and love and the laughter of children.

The legend of the Faithful Pine which sheltered the Holy Family during the flight to Egypt is less well known perhaps, but so very charming and touched by the mysticism appropriate to the Nativity theme.

With Herod's soldiers in pursuit, Mary simply had to rest awhile and sought shelter within the hollow trunk of a huge fir tree. As the soldiers approached, the tree bent its branches to conceal the huddled little group. When the danger had passed, the baby Jesus blessed the old tree. And if you cut a pine cone lengthwise at Christmastime, you can still see the imprint of His little hand.

Nor has legend overlooked the bright baubles which bedeck our modern Christmas trees. The first Christmas tree was really an apple tree, according to legends collected by Florence B. Robinson. And, although the fir tree long since has supplanted its predecessor for Christmas use, the popular tinsel bauble of today is the representative of the fruit which for the early Christians symbolized the fall of man in the Garden of Eden and his reclamation by the birth of the Saviour.

HOLY NIGHT

This painting of the first Christmas was done by Feuerstein, an Alsatian who taught at the Munich Academy of Art.

British royalty since George IV have encouraged the Scotch to wear tartans.

Nativity Theme Dominates Cards

Modern Christmas cards feature literally hundreds of interpretations of the popular Nativity theme. Many of these are reproductions from the old masters, while many others have been created especially for the Christmas card industry.

The Nativity theme, which naturally lends itself to an almost endless variety of interpretations and a wealth of detail, long has been a favorite subject of Christian artists. Many of the details, based upon certain Bible texts, have fostered various legends—such as those concerning the Magi—which grew until the Wise Men were identified and given kingdoms.

The Annunciation is among the earliest subjects represented in Christian art, antedating the Madonna and Child theme by several centuries, and it is interesting to note that the father of the Church determined how the Madonna should be portrayed: her dress and mantle are usually blue and red.

Christmas Mass

Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve is the event of the year in Rome.

Every Roman Catholic church in the Holy City is crowded with men, women and children anxious to see the processions of church officials in their splendid robes. The larger the church, the more beautiful the sight. And, of course, the service at St. Peter's is the most magnificent in the world.

At St. Peter's all the men present are required to wear evening clothes and the ladies must be dressed in black, thus offsetting the brilliant beauty of the robes. Even the guards on duty are attired in elegant red and white uniforms.

REUNION

By JOHN SCOTT DOUGLAS

The driver said, "It's a straight walk, and a pretty little cottage, but maybe all you'll find there will be trouble, Hal."

Hal Lennard stepped from the car and said, "I'll deserve it, Ed."

"Seeing the New Year in doesn't mean much to me, Hal. Call the Ashes, and I'll leave early if she makes it too hot for you."

Hal smiled and started briskly along the walk. But his steps gradually slowed. Ed might be right. This visit could be awkward. It wasn't easy to face a woman who had loved you and from whom you'd run away.

He'd chosen the night deliberately. (For it was on New Year's Eve, exactly 11 years ago, that he'd stood on the parapet outside the Skylight Room with Carol Cameron), looking down at the city's lights, listening to sirens announcing the new year.

Impulsively, he'd said, "Will you marry me, Carol?"

There was none of the coquette in Carol. "Of course, Hal. I've intended to since pigtail days."

Now that memory made his knock uncertain. Within, he heard quick, light steps, and the door opened.

Uncertainty Of Reception

"How good of you to come, Hal." Her voice still had a bell-like tone.

She didn't switch on the light as she led the way into the living room. A dog nuzzled his leg as he sat down.

"Here, Thora," she said.

"Kind of you to let me come, Carol," he began awkwardly. "I wanted to make my peace before another year rolled around."

"It was a shock," she admitted quietly. "Having a man ask you to marry him as the New Year broke, and then at noon next day receiving that telegram saying that you were going away and to forgive you."

"I had a kid idea that I wanted to work at whatever I pleased, wherever I pleased. Fancy free, and tied to no responsibilities."

"By the time I'd seen some of the country and part of Mexico, the war came, and I went into the merchant marine for the excitement and big money. Crossed the Atlantic in convoys a few times before I had the bad luck to sail on a tanker that was torpedoed in the Caribbean."

He described the confusion of the green crew, how he had been forced to swim through burning oil, and had then drifted in a lifejacket for hours before being rescued. Months in a marine hospital had followed.

"It was the massage treatments there," he explained, "that made me decide to become a masseur. Now I have two assistants. But I shouldn't be talking so much when you haven't mentioned your accident."

Before she quite finished, horns and hirens began blaring.

"The New Year already, Hal. How quickly the time has passed."

"It always did for us, remember?"

"It's a nice idea—a fresh new year when people can resolve to lead better lives, start afresh and leave their mistakes behind."

A Fresh Start

His voice was husky: "Could that be us, Carol? I'd like to make a fresh start with you, darling, if you could forgive me." She was silent so long that he added, "I wouldn't run away a second time."

"I'm not thinking of that, my dear. I'm too happy to think. But maybe I should. There would be problems for us, Hal."

"None we couldn't meet if we had courage."

He found her lips and this time there was no parapet to steady himself. But he felt the dog beside him and gripped its harness. A tail began to thump his leg.

"I believe Thora likes me," he said. "I hope she'll like Buck."

"She should. They're of opposite sexes," Carol said. "That should keep our seeing-eye dogs from fighting, shouldn't it, darling?"

Germans Put Up First Trees Here

A Christmas tree will be put up in two out of every three American homes this year. Yet the trimmed Christmas tree, as it is known today, is only about 150 years old in this country.

The Pilgrims forbade Christmas celebrations on the grounds they were pagan. A Massachusetts law in 1639 subjected anyone to a fine who observed the day by feasting, refraining from work or in any other manner.

It was not until near the end of the American Revolution that the Christmas tree took hold. German immigrants, homesick for the tradition of their native land, put them up.

The custom of the lighted Christmas tree, some historians tell, originated with Martin Luther. He was fascinated by evergreen trees, glistening with starlit-snow, pointing to the heavens at Christmas time. So he brought an evergreen tree into his house and lighted it with candles for his children.

Another old German legend credits St. Boniface with the origin of the Christmas tree. Having converted some oak tree-worshipping Druids to Christianity, he took them into a forest, cut down an oak and pointed to a stately fir along side. "Take this tree," he said, "into your homes as a sign of your new worship. Celebrate God's power no more with shameful rites, but in the sanctity of your homes with laughter and love."

28TH MEN GET XMAS LEAVES

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Nov. 24 (AP) --Approximately 90 per cent of the 28th Division soldiers stationed here will be able to go home for the Christmas holidays, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, division commander, announced Wednesday.

Efforts already are under way to arrange transportation, including the possible use of special trains direct to Pennsylvania.

A majority of men in the division, formerly a part of the Pennsylvania National Guard, are from the Keystone state.

Lieut. Col. George I. MacLeod has been assigned to take a census of soldiers planning to make the trip, and to arrange for travel. He said that he hoped to obtain one or more special trains, and will seek a special reduced fare similar to that granted servicemen during World War II.

Soldiers will have the option of taking furloughs for five, nine or ten days. The ten-day leaves will begin December 22, and end at midnight January 1.

All soldiers remaining in camp during the holidays will be eligible to take ten-day furloughs at a later date. Gen. Strickler said it would be necessary to retain only about 10 per cent of the division personnel in camp over the holidays, and that this number probably can be obtained from volunteers.

Mistletoe Has Made Long Strides

The mistletoe has come a long way from the days when it was worshiped by the British druids to its present status as a criminal killer of forests. However, its use as a symbol of love, peacemaking and goodwill survives to this Christmas intact from the pre-Christian days of the ancient Scandinavian light god, Balder, whose palace stood in the Milky Way.

The beloved Balder, so the myth goes, was slain by a mistletoe arrow but was restored to life at the intercession of the other gods. Custody of the mistletoe plant was then entrusted to the goddess of love who ordained that henceforth anyone passing beneath its bough should receive a kiss in token of love, not vengeance. As long as the mistletoe was held high it could never be used as a power for evil.

Legends Associate Mule, Gentle Camel

Syrian legends have associated the Magic Mule and the Gentle Camel of Jesus with gift-giving, for reasons that are at once different, and yet similar in their association with the Christ Child.

It seems a certain traveler tied his mule to a tree when he went into an inn for refreshment on Epiphany Eve. Just at midnight, when the boughs of the tree bowed down in homage to the Holy Infant, the mule was caught up on the rebound and found cradled high up in the branches by its returning master.

Th youngest camel of the three ridden by the Wise Men was exhausted by the pressing journey and was blessed with immortality by the baby Jesus as it lay moaning near the Nativity scene.

TREES INCREASE DANGER OF FIRE

The average Christmas tree can go up in smoke in only two minutes. That doesn't leave much time for the fire department to get there.

A live tree with roots packed in a bucket of earth is the safest. Be sure and keep the dirt moistened. A small tree is safer than a large one and festive trimmings can make up what it lacks in size.

Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to set it up inside. When you bring it in, keep it in the coolest part of the house with the radiator nearest it turned off.

Use noninflammable aluminum foil —not cotton or paper—to conceal container in which tree is "planted." Use noninflammable trimmings on the tree.

Candles Dangerous

Don't use lighted candles. (This may seem an unnecessary precaution in this day of electric lights, but lighted candles contribute to tragic fires every year.)

Check the wiring for the tree to see that it's not frayed and is in perfect condition. The switch for turning off and on electric lights should be at some distance from the tree. Don't plug or unplug lights beneath the tree.

Don't leave tree lights on when it isn't necessary and especially when the family is away from home. From time to time, check over the tree and see if needles near the lights are turning brown. If they have, move the lights.

Watch the calendar. New Year's is the day for the tree to go down. If you should extend the time, don't leave the lights on the tree for more than a half hour at a time.

The National Geographic Society says fossils indicate there were at least three kinds of giant sea reptiles 80,000,000 years ago.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 24 (AP)—Premier Mustapha Naha appeared on his balcony and attempted to calm the warlike feelings of 10,000 anti-British demonstrators Wednesday by assuring them Egypt may attain her [illegible] ends without violence. The demonstrators, most of them students from King Fuad I University and secondary schools, milled about beneath his office shouting "revolution" and "struggle."

SUFFER Little Children

By VERA TARPLEY

Standing on her tiptoes, Mandy could see the whole bright array of them—shiny red, blue and silver ornaments spread out on the table, waiting for Santa's nimble fingers to arrange them on the tree.

"Pretteeee," she murmured longingly. If only Santa would let her help him. Just handing them to him one by one would be wonderful. She turned to Gerald, who was busily fumbling with train tracks and getting nowhere. "Gerry, you touch?" she asked, looking back at the ornaments.

Gerald looked up despairingly from his train tracks. "Sure, I touched them lots of times," he said carelessly. "Only you can't," he added. "You're too little."

If she could just touch them—just touch one—then nothing else would matter.

Voices floated into them from the kitchen. "The kid's old enough to know there isn't a Santa Claus, anyway!" That was John Martin who said that. John Martin, the most wonderful Daddy in the world.

Her First Year

They must still have been talking about what happened before supper. Mommy had fixed hamburgers—they always had hamburgers on Christmas Eve, and this was the first year Mandy could have a hamburger like everybody else.

There was really nothing to get mad about. Mandy and Gerald had been standing in the kitchen smelling the wonderful smells, while Mommy was fixing supper. The basement door was standing open to let out some of the smoke from frying, and up the stairs he came, one step at a time, and peeked his little head around the door.

Mandy saw him first and screamed in happy delirium. Gerald ran over and picked him up—he wriggled and squirmed and licked Gerald all over the face. Gerald knew it was a fox terrier pup—he knew all the names of the different dogs, but he had always wanted a fox terrier.

Daddy came into the kitchen at that point. He acted even more queerly—he was mad! And he started saying terrible things to Mommy—terrible things that made Mandy cry and Gerald want to run far away so he wouldn't hear.

"I told you to keep the basement door closed!" Daddy roared. "It's just plain stupid carelessness on your part!" And he snatched the puppy from Gerald's arms and carried him down the basement stairs.

Mandy was still looking over the edge of the table at the beautiful ornaments. If she could just touch them—just touch one—then nothing else would matter.

She hadn't meant to jerk the newspapers under them so hard—she just wanted to pull the ornaments a little closer to the edge of the table. But there it was—broken ornaments all over the floor—still shiny red, blue and silver—but broken. "Pretteee," she said.

"That does it!" shouted Mommy, bursting into tears. She swept up the pieces and dumped them into the wastebasket. "You put the kids to bed, John. I'm going over to Mother's for a while—maybe there'll be some Christmas spirit left over there."

But John lay down on the sofa in the living room and fell asleep. He didn't wake up until Martha shook him frantically, screaming, "The children! The children are gone!"

There was no anger—no accusations now. Just terror. John was the first to recover enough to start thinking. He ran down to the basement and found the puppy gone. He went outside, and Martha was left sobbing alone.

She was picking up the telephone when she saw it. A light in the garage. John was standing at the garage door looking in—just standing there.

A small pine branch was propped up in one corner—John had snipped it off himself that afternoon because it made the tree look lopsided. From each twig of the pine branch hung a bright shiny piece of ornament, laboriously tied on with a string.

At the base of the Christmas tree slept a huddled mass of legs and arms and a tail. The tail twitched a little and brushed Mandy's forehead. "Pretteee," she murmured softly.

Miss "Merry" Christmas

By MAUD McCURDY WELCH

Meredith Harris, known as Merry, at at her desk in the big insurance fice and fought back her tears.

A voice startled her. "Why are you ere working? Are . . . you crying?" It was Hugh Mallory, the agency ead. Merry said, "Just finishing up. verybody's in such a hurry."

"It's Christmas Eve. Let everyhing go." Hugh started to his office. Merry's eyes followed his tall gure. She liked him very much. He turned back. "You didn't tell e why you were crying."

"It's nothing. My sister and her amily have gone to California. I uess I . . . I'm lonely."

"That may be my good luck," he said surprisingly.

He was alone, too, he explained. His sister-in-law who had looked after his little daughter since the death of his wife four years ago, had left unexpectedly. His Aunt Amanda was still with them, but she was getting old. There was no one to do the things to make a little girl happy. Would Meredith help him?

No Christmas Tree

It took them three hours to finish shopping. At seven o'clock, Hugh's luxurious car turned on the drive of an imposing house.

A little girl sat in a big chair looking lonely. She held out her arms and cried a little. "We're not going to have a Christmas tree or anything."

Hugh Mallory swung his little daughted up in his arms. "Oh, yes, we are." He put her down. "This is Miss Meredith Harris, she's going to see to everything."

And it was the most wonderful Christmas Dee had ever had and the most beautiful tree. But Merry's gift was best of all. A beautiful Siamese kitten.

The presents had been distributed. Merry and Dee sat in a big chair, Dee stroking the kitten's

"No. . . . No!" Dee cried in anguish. But Hilda tore the cat from her.

head. "How did you know I wanted a kitten more'n anything?"

"Because I was a little girl once myself."

Ordered From House

Hugh went uptown on an errand in the later afternoon. Soon after a handsome woman in rich furs and jewels came in.

"Aunt Hilda, you . . . came back?"

"Yes, Dee, I know my duty, even if your father and I . . ." Hilda broke off staring at Merry. "Who's this?"

"It's Miss Merry Christmas . . . that's what I call her. She fixed my beautiful tree, did everything."

Hilda looked at Merry coldly. "You can go now. And take that cat with you. They're full of germs."

"No . . . No!" Dee cried in anguish.

But Hilda tore the cat from her, thrust it in Merry's arms. The next thing Merry had been ushered out the front door.

She went to her small apartment, sat down in a chintz chair, holding the kitten. "Well, after all, it was fun even if it is over," she confided tearfully to the cat.

But it wasn't over. Two hours la . . . Hugh Mallory knocked on her door. "I hunted through a hundred office files for your address and I found you at last."

Merry was flushed. "Your sister-in-law came back."

He nodded. "She's gone for good now. We'd had a disagreement. You see, I found she was teaching my little girl to be a snob." He grinned off smiled again. "Dee wants you to come back and so . . . do I. For good. Do you understand, darling?"

She was afraid to believe he'd really said that. But he took her hands, drew her closer. "Look, Merry, I've been searching for the right girl for a long time. I knew I'd found her when I saw you sitting in that big chair with Dee and the cat. Oh, my dear, say you love me, say you'll marry me. Dee and I need you so."

Meredith lifted her face and he read his answer in the sweet sincerity of her eyes.

Mistletoe Saps Strength of Trees

The flame-thrower and atomic energy — lethal instruments borrowed from modern warfare — are out to kill that ancient symbol of peacemaking and love, the Christmas mistletoe.

The unusual battle front is Australia where too many valuable trees each year have been receiving the kiss of death from the harmless looking shrub. Despite mistletoe's popular reputation as the Yuletide promoter of romance, it is a public-enemy parasite in the woodlands, killing off the trees that play it host.

Australian foresters have finally resorted to the flame-thrower as a quick executioner for the plant and are using radio-active tracers, furnished by the U.S. atomic energy commission, to study how the mistletoe saps the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

According to the familiar old carol, St. Joseph was an old man. He probably was considerably older than Mary, but people may have thought of him as being older than he actually was because he enjoyed earnest conversation and the companionship of selected friends rather than boisterous pleasures.

When Joseph thought of Mary, he forgot the difference in their ages: she was the girl he had waited for, his beloved. They were espoused—or, as we would say, engaged—which was almost as official as being married. His heart soared on wings of the approaching wedding day, and then. . .

What Mary insisted had come to pass, simply could not be! Joseph wanted desperately to believe Mary, but such things just didn't happen, and if they did, they happened to somebody else.

Fear Not Said Angels

Much as he loved Mary, Joseph was a righteous and God-fearing man and while he couldn't even think of making her a public example, he had just about made up his mind to put her away privily. That is, he thought he had made up his mind. In his heart, he knew he couldn't; what would become of her . . . of her child. . .

Then one night, after he had exhausted himself with tortured thinking, he fell asleep and the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream: saying,

"Joseph, thou son of David fear not . . ."

And when Joseph awoke, he did as the angel had bidden him, and took Mary as his lawful and cherished wife.

"Fear not," the angel spoke unto Joseph.

"Fear not," the angel had declared unto Mary.

"Fear not," the angel said unto the sheperds of Bethlehem.

NEED KNOW-HOW FOR YULE LOGS

The Yule Log is a tradition of Christmas, but due to central heating and gas stoves it is becoming a lost tradition in this country. Few city dwellers have open grates or desire a log fire. And those living in the country find coal more efficient and less trouble.

However, for those who have a place to burn the Yule Log and want one, tradition says it should be oak, ash, olive, apple or pine. Further, the fire on which it is placed should be kindled from a brand saved from last year's log, and that it should not be allowed to go out during the night.

For those determined to have the Yule Log, the voice of experience says get hold of all the wood you can. Some kinds burn better than others, but reject none these days.

Beware Of Sparks

Ash is highly praised by some and can be used without being seasoned. It burns quickly, but throws off great heat. Poplar, on the other hand, should be seasoned or it will spark badly.

Elm is condemned as undesirable, but can be used. It is slow to get burning, but lasts a long time and brightens up when it gets going. A few logs of birch, pine or fir will help it along.

Beech and oak are among the best logs. Beech is especially good, having a pleasant armoa and a steady glow. Oak has the outstanding merit of burning slowly.

If none of these are available, wood from all kinds of fruit trees are prime favorites for the Yule Log because of their pleasant smell when burning.

Russians Have Xmas Substitute

Although Christmas is no longer a holiday in Soviet Russia, a non-religious midwinter festival is celebrated and children receive gifts from "Grandpa Frost."

In Czarist Russia, it was customary well-to-do families with large homes to entertain lavishly on Christmas day. The invitations were extremely formal and begged the invited to consider that.

". . . for thousands of years it has been so; with us it has not commenced, with us it will not cease. Do not, therefore, disturb the festival; do not bring the good people to despair. Without you there will be no hostesses gave particular attention to the selection of partners for the young ladies. The selection was sometimes very satisfactory and sometimes left something to be desired.

Arrival of the "fair maidens," each with her mother and retinue, bringing cake and sweetmeats and gifts for everyone, proceeded according to prescribed ritual: the guests sooner freezing in their sleds before the gate than to alight before receiving the greeting of the host and hostess.

Having been ceremoniously welcomed, the guests offered prayers before the icon (sacred picture) and then proceeded to the feasting and festivities arranged for them.

A Real Christmas After All

By DOROTHY BOYS KILIAN

"This household is in for a lean Christmas, all right," Bill Robinson said bitterly to his wife who had just come into the living room, dressed for marketing. Seated in an easy chair, he looked disgustedly down at his still-bandaged leg stretched out straight on an ottoman.

Margaret leaned over and brushed her cheek against his. "It's enough for us to see you getting well again, honey. When I first saw you after that auto accident, I was plumb scared for your life."

Bill squeezed her hand. "You're a brick dear. But we can't expect our three- and five-year-old offspring to understand that doctor and hospital bills have completely stripped us. Why we can't even afford a tree, let alone presents."

Repaying Neighbors

Margaret was quiet for a second. Then she stood up, and turning toward the door, said, "Speaking of the children, Bill, they're out in the kitchen with their water colors,

"What a small bunch of fellows," he managed to say.

and the two little Johnson girls are with them. Mrs. Johnson had some last minutes shopping to do, and I knew you wouldn't mind watching them again."

"O.K.," Bill answered. "That's the least I can do after the neighborly way they treated us through all this mess."

"I'll try to be home before your Cub Scout group descends upon you. Seven lively boys are a terrific handful, I know."

Promises Rebound

Voices from the kitchen broke into the silence. Judy Johnson was saying excitedly, "I think I'm going to get a doll buggy."

Back came his own little Margie's answer. "I'm going to get a doll house."

"How do you know?"

"Oh, because I asked for one for my birthday last summer, and Daddy smiled and said probably one would come at Christmas."

Bill winced. It had been so easy, promising things for six months ahead.

Just then he heard Mrs. Johnson's hearty voice at the kitchen door. "Where's Mr. Robinson? I have something here for him."

"Oh, a Christmas tree!" The shrill voice of a child exclaimed.

Mrs. Johnson was laughing as she appeared at the living room door. "Did you hear, Bill? Yes, I went shopping for our tree, and picked one up for you folks at the same time. It isn't so very tall, but it's big enough to cheer you all up."

Mrs. Johnson went on talking, to cover Bill's enbarrassment. "I'll take all the youngsters over to my house for awhile." And she was gone.

"Some neighbor!" Bill glowed. "Still," his face clouded over, "That tree may only point up the lack of much under it—"

A loud commotion at the front door drew his attention. "Come on in, the door's not locked," he called, recognizing the voices of his Cub Scouts.

Cubs Make Toys

A whirlwind of blue-clad boys swept into the room, their eyes sparkling with happy mischief.

"Oh, Mr. Robinson," the smallest one shrieked. "We've just finished all the—"

"We've been working after school every day at my house, making toys for your children," a second Cub burst in. "You should see—a doll house for Margie, and a doll bed and a kitchen cupboard!"

"And for little Bill, guess what!" The smallest boy couldn't keep quiet. "A wooden sled, and a garage for his little cars and some big blocks, all sanded and waxed and everything!"

Bill tossed his head to get rid of the drops of mist in the corners of his eyes. "What a swell bunch of fellows," he managed to say. "But why—"

"Why not? the biggest Cub said happily. "You're the one who taught us how to use tools in the first place, aren't you? And besides, we just like the Robinsons!" He stopped suddenly, embarrassed.

"Well, fellows," Bill said, after a deep breath, "I certainly didn't think so a while ago, but this is going to be one of the happiest Christmases of my life!"

A contingent of Francisco (Pancho) Villa's rebel Mexican army raided a U. S. Army encampment near the town of Columbus, New Mexico, March 8, 1916. Hostile troops last invaded the continental United States in 1916.

ASKS SLASH IN U.S. SPENDING

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce called on Congress Tuesday to cut government spending for non-military purposes by at least $6,000,000,000 before it considers taxing excess profits of corporations.

Ripping into administration proposals for a 75 cent tax on abnormal business profits, Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the Chamber's Finance committee, declared it was impossible to devise a workable excess profits tax to produce the $4,000,000,000 yearly asked by President Truman.

Alvord set forth the chamber's views in a statement for the House Ways and Means commitee, which is winding up hearings on the profits tax proposal which Mr. Truman says is necessary to finance the expanding defense program.

As business wheeled its biggest guns into the hearings, Democrats on the tax-writing Ways and Means committee continued to hold firm rein on Republican efforts to discuss substitutes for the administration plan.

GOP committee members are plugging for a rise in the corporate income tax rate or a combination of that with an excess profits tax. But the Democrats are sticking by a mandate from the House to draw up an excess profits tax bill.

Two Men Hurt In Fire, Explosion

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—An explosion and fire damaged a four-story building in Philadelphia's Dock street wholesale produce area.

The flames were brought under control an hour after they were reported in the building occupied by H. Feinstein company, banana importers and distributors at 108 Dock street.

Injured were Patrolmen Bernard Lebov, 25, and Bertram Lopert, and Arch McCoy, workman.

Lebov was hurled across Dock street when struck by a door blown from the building. Doctors at Pennsylvania hospital said he was in serious condition with head injuries.

Lopert sustained singed eyebrows and hair after entering the building just before the blast. McCoy suffered burns of the face and hands. Three alarms brought a major portion of the central city's fire equipment to the scene.

Navy Rocket Sets Altitude Record

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A navy Viking rocket reached a speed of 3,600 miles an hour Tuesday in climbing 107 miles into the upper atmosphere over New Mexico.

The Viking, 50 feet long and weighing 5½ tons, beat by one mile the previous altitude record for an American-made single stage missile.

However, a German V-2, fired at White Sands, N. Mex., climbed 114 miles and an American "Wac Corporal" it released at the top of its flight has been officially recorded as attaining a height of more than 250 miles.

Her First Pumpkin Pie Taken By Thief

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—After 22 years of marriage, Mrs. Ida Fein made her first pumpkin pie—but she'll never know how it turned out. Mrs. Fein baked the pie for Thanksgiving in honor of the homecoming of her daughter, Rita, a senior at Penn State college.

Monday night, a thief broke into the Fein home and took silverware, table linen, frozen chicken, a toy bank and other valuables. More important, in Mrs. Fein's mind, however, was the loss of the pumpkin pie.

"I've been married 22 years," she said, "and it was the first pumpkin pie I ever baked. Now I'll never know how it turned out."

Chevrolet Starts Producing For '51

Detroit, Nov. 24 (AP) — Chevrolet the world's biggest auto maker, started production Tuesday of its redesigned 1951 model cars and will introduce them on December 9.

William E. Fish, general sales manager, said it has not yet been determined whether price tags can be kept at present levels. He told a gathering of industry writers last night pre-viewing the new models that Chevrolet expects to sell 1,450,000 cars and 442,000 trucks this year.

Total Chevrolet car and truck output for the current year, he said, should reach 2,000,000 units sometime within the next six weeks.

Fish referred to 1950 as the "greatest and most abnormal year in automobile industry history." Chevrolet dealers, he said, had not been especially hard hit by credit controls. Their sales, he added, had been greater in the first 10 days of November than they were in the final 10-day period of October.

Los ngeles, Nov. 24 (AP)—A family of three was in court because their name, Schoephoerster, is a tough one to spell.

"Our little girl (Judith Ann, five) is in kindergarten," said Mrs. Marjorie Schoephoerster, 28. "It's hard for a little girl to spell a name that has 14 letters. Five will be lots easier." Her husband, Lowell, 29, agreed and they asked yesterday that the court legally change the name to Schep. The judge approved.

8 INJURED IN $200,000 FIRE AT LANCASTER

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP) — Five firemen and three residents of upstairs apartments were injured on Tuesday in a fire which caused $200,000 in damage to a building just off the main business district in Lancaster.

Firemen rescued the apartment residents, including a four month-old baby, from a second floor roof just before the fire broke through. Five firemen were hospitalized by the flames.

Firemen injured seriously included Capt. William Aldis, 47, possible chest injuries and shock when he was buried under a falling wall.

Walter R. Bucks, 27, suffered a fractured left hip and possible chest injuries in the collapse of an interior wall. George Gotiselig, 26, Charles Andes, 32, and Kenneth Stover, 34, were hospitalized for smoke inhalation. All are members of the Lancaster fire department.

The blaze raged out of control for more than an hour. The building, in the 200 block on North Prince street, housed the Krist Bottling company, offices of the Stephens Engineering company, several smaller offices and firms and two apartments on the third floor.

Assistant Fire Chief Frank Deen, who made the damage estimate said the cause of the blaze was undetermined. He identified the apartment dwellers rescued as Mrs. Esther Breniser, 25, her daughter Patric (CQ), and Clarence Williams, 27.

Elmer Snyder, 71, a retired laborer, died in his home a short time after returning home from watching the fire. Dr. Charles P. Stahr, deputy coroner, said death was caused by a heart attack superinduced by excitement from the fire.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and children, Philip, Barry and Sue, Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ohler. The Smiths were entertained at dinner by Mr. Ohler.

The Mount St. Mary's college Thanksgiving recess began Tuesday.

There were only two days of school at the Emmitsburg schools this week. The Thanksgiving recess started with the close of school Tuesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Annan, of Hagerstown, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Baumgardner, Waynesboro road.

Mrs. Laurian Warner, of Blue Ride Summit, spent November 16 with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Hays, West Main street.

Mrs. Pauline Seabrook recently spent several days in New Windsor visiting relatives.

Miss Ann Leary, of the Hancock, Md., school faculty spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Leary, West Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes, of near Emmitsburg, visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shafer, Frederick, Sunday.

Weldon B. Shank returned this week from bear hunting in Pennsylvania.

College students from Emmitsburg returning for Thanksgiving dinner and vacations are: Paul Harner, Ruth Neighbours, Rodman Cadle, Paul Ross and Shirley Jones from the University of Maryland, Richard Jones from the University of Maryland Medical school, Mary Fiery, Nancy Beegle, Betty Ann Hollinger, Doris Miller, Sue Stinson from Towson State Teachers and Junior colleges. Miss Carolyn Cadle of the University hospital Nursing school will spend some time this Thanksgiving with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Cadle.

Mexico City, Nov. 24 (AP)—Mexico's telephones went back to normal after a brief strike over alleged violations of a labor contract.

The strike began at noon Tuesday. The government took over operation of the system early last night, ordering the 6,000 workers back to their jobs. Local and long distance service to the country's 240,000 phones were resumed by midnight.

LIVING ON CREDIT

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — More than a third of the nation's families spent more than they took in last year, managing to get by chiefly on credit, the Federal Reserve board reported Tuesday. Most of them were in lower income brackets, the board said, adding that families in the top tenth in income piled up more savings than all other families put together.

SEES GAS PRICE RISE

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP) — Stiff increases in consumer prices for natural gas were foreseen today by an industry spokesmen as one result of the proposed excess profits tax. The higher prices prediction was made to the House Ways and Means committee by William G. Woolfolk, chairman of the American Natural Gas company.

Pleasant as it is to dream of a "White Christmas" with its carols and gifts, feasting and merry-making, the sparkling eyes of children delighting in Santa Claus and the wonderful Christmas trees, these things never can symbolize the tremendous significance of the day.

The birth of the Saviour was the greatest event in the history of the world. In spite of all the backslidings, Christian peoples have pressed forward steadily.

However vicious and corrupt, the world today is far better than the world of pagan times; familiarity with the cross and crucifixion has abolished legal tortures and much cruelty—and, if given a chance, might shame us into banishing the curse of international viciousness for the sake of Him who became the Saviour of Mankind.

Christmas Here Old As Columbus

The celebration of Christmas in this country has deep and permanent roots, although at one time its observance was nearly exterminated.

The first Christmas observance was shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria beached on Christmas Eve and all Christmas day Columbus and his men worked to free her. When it was found hopeless, she was stripped and as much gear as possible taken to the Nina.

However, the Nina was unable to carry all the men, and some were left behind in a fort, that in honor of the season was called Le Navidad, the nativity.

Currier, Ives Cards

Commercial production of Christmas cards in the United States began about 1835 with the founding and developing of the partnership of Currier and Ives in New York.

For more than a century American painters have aided the industry by painting Christmas themes on order or by selling reproduction rights to the art which is now conservatively estimated as worth $10,000,000 annually.

The favorite Nativity theme is represented by hundreds of interpretations. Winter scenes are next in popularity, some of them dating back to the Puritans of New England, the German forests whence St. Nicholas emerged, and even to the Druids of pre-Christian England.

Flower Legends Express Christmas Beauty

There are many legends concerning Christmas, but some of the most beautiful have to do with flowers.

The Christmas rose, for instance, was Divinely created. A shepheard maid wept at having no gift to lay before the Babe in the Manger. Suddenly an angel appeared before her—

The Angel spoke, his voice was low and sweet
As the sea's murmur on low-
lying shore,
Or whisper of the wind in ripened wheat.

Then, after hearing why the maiden wept, he touched the ground where her tears had fallen, with the branch of lilies which he carried, and immediately the place was white with Christmas roses, which the maid gathered and laid on the manger.

Of the others, Sainfoin, or Holy Hay, is believed to have cradled the infant Christ in the manger.

And the snowdrop is the flower of the Virgin Mary, and is said to be the emblem of the candles she lighted on Christmas Eve.

SOAP FLAKE SNOW

Trimming the Christmas tree with fluffy snow is easy if you use soap flakes. It won't melt either.

Here's how it's done: Use three of four cups of soap flakes to one cup of warm water. Beat with electric beater or hand beater until smooth and fluffy. Then spread immediately over branches of tree, scattering it on with hands.

For sparkle, spread on some artificial glistening snow.

"All HE WANTS" . . . Young Edward Hospisa of New York makes known to Santa his Christmas wish. He said, to coin a phrase, "All I want for Christmas is my two front incisors." Whether he'll get them is another story.

Hawaiian Christmas Is Elaborate Affair

Although many Hawaiians have seen ice only as frozen in mechanical refrigerators, the trees used by the islanders for Christmas decorations are painted white to simulate snow.

Christmas dinner is an elaborate affair, enjoyed in the privacy of the home behind locked doors and drawn blinds. Any open-house hospitality is an economic impossibility; if the shades were not drawn and the doors not locked, homes would be invaded by hordes of strangers—all expecting food and drink.

Gift-giving is the order of the day as everyone exchanges inexpensive presents. Even the servants in hotels expect and receive gifts from over-night guests.

SANTA'S REQUESTS

Santa Claus still gets letters from youngsters with the same cherished requests — bicycles and dolls. But last year a child wanted a live cow. He told a department store Santa so.

Another kid wanted a new daddy because hers was "wearing out on top."

WEBER, SMOCK RETAINED IN FINE CABINET

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Two members of Gov. James H. Duff's cabinet—Adjutant General Frank A. Weber and Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock—will continue in office when the new Pennsylvania administration takes over in January.

Governor-elect John S. Fine, vacationing here, disclosed this to a press conference Tuesday. He praised the records of both officials, and said they were "deserving" of reappointment.

Smock is a resident of Meadville. The governor-elect cited "the record-breaking achievements" of the highways department under the Duff administration, adding that "the highway improvements under Secretary Smock were so balanced that the benefits have been shared in every section of the commonwealth. We are fortunate that he is available."

On "Working Vacation"

Fine applauded Weber's "untiring efforts in behalf of the veterans of Pennsylvania." The adjutant general, Fine added, "developed the commonwealth's military establishment to its highest level of operating efficiency. I know the veterans of Pennsylvania will continue to have their most sympathetic and effective spokesman in General Weber." The adjutant general lives at Beaver Falls.

The governor-elect has described his post-election visit to this southern resort as a "working vacation." In addition to announcing the first part of his cabinet plans, he has been considering the tax policy his administration will adopt and other major steps to be taken after he becomes governor.

Fine, former Luzerne county and Superior Court judge, is a guest here of former Senator Andrew J. Sordoni, of Wilkes-Barre. Mrs. Fine and their two young sons accompanied the governor-elect on the trip. Other guests include State Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, and Senate Majority Leader John M. Walker, of Allegheny county.

While no definite arrangements have been disclosed, Fine said he hopes to meet with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, and Gov. Sherman Adams, of New Hampshire, who also are vacationing here. Governor James H. Duff, also is due in Florida and probably will get together with his successor.

Helps Buy Ambulance And Is Early Patient

Easton, Md., Nov. 24 (AP)—"Sure, you never know when you might need the ambulance yourself," said Jim Sewell. So he cheerfully contributed early last week to a campaign for funds to maintain an ambulance in this Eastern Shore area.

Last Friday the ambulance had a passenger—Jim Sewell. A tenant farmer about 38 years old, he had fallen into a corn picker and lost his right arm and leg.

There wasn't much hope then that he would live. But the ambulance crew applied tourniquets on the way to the hospital and made it there faster than ever. Neighbors besieged the hospital with offers of blood. Monday a brigade led by Farm Bureau members swarmed over Sewell's 150-acre place to finish the corn picking and plowing and see if there was anything else they could do for his wife and five children.

Today doctors at Easton hospital said Sewell had stopped bleeding and seemed unbelievably strong. They expect him to recover.

West Point Gets Unwanted "Invites"

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Army cadets continued their mop-up operations Wednesday after being bombed with 20,000 unwanted invitations to the Princeton-Dartmouth football game on Tuesday.

Four Princeton students hired a private plane so they could dump the leaflets on Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H. But icy conditions forced the plane back. Rather than waste the invitations to "an Indian massacre," they let them loose over West Point.

"We got a big kick out of the thought of those cadets having to pick up all that paper," a member of the anonymous quartet said.

The Gran Chaco of Paraguay is still in the Wild West stage.

CANNERS END MEETING

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Canners' association heard a plea for closer cooperation between canners and customers as it closed its annual two-day convention here. The call came from Mrs. Rose Marie Kiefer, secretary-manager of the National Association of Retail Grocers, who made an address at a brief session Tuesday.

At Paraguay is like that of southern Florida.

ARMY AT YALU MAY OPEN TALK WITH CHINESE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Arrival of American troops at the Yalu river—boundary between Korea and Manchuria—provides a dramatic prelude to the scheduled appearance of Chinese Communist representatives before the United Nations at Lake Success next week to argue allegations of aggression against America.

The specific mission of the envoys is to substantiate their charges of U. S. aggression in connection with Formosa, Chinese Nationalist base. However, an effort is to be made by U.N. members to include a discussion of Korea, and some observers are speculating whether there might even be a chance for reaching an agreement with Peiping regarding the Korean situation.

Wishful Thinking

Such a hope obviously involves wishful thinking, especially since the Chinese have refused to discuss the Korean issue. However, any legitimate effort towards peace is a worthy pursuit. The arrival of American forces at the Yalu river might provide the basis for introducing the subject.

This isn't the first time U.N. troops have got to the Yalu, of course. South Koreans fought their way to the boundary at the end of October, and it was then that the Red Chinese started throwing soldiers into Korea to aid the North Korean Communists. The result was that the U.N. forces were driven back, and the chances of winding up the war before winter went glimmering.

Chinese Excuses

The Chinese Reds excused this action by charging that the Korean war was a product of aggression by America, and that the U. S. had designs on Chinese territory. Moreover, both the Chinese and the Russian governments were fearful for the safety of the Yalu river's great power works which furnish electricity for a wide area of Manchuria and Soviet Siberia.

But that, of course, is far from the whole story. Allied authorities in the Far East feel sure that Moscow is the influence behind the Chinese intervention, and that the Russian scheme is to keep the Korean war going in order to weaken the Western powers, especially America. Red China is playing along, with the idea that this ultimately will give her leadership of Asia—a forlorn hope. Moscow doesn't have partners—only satellites.

Frailey, Miss Ann Codori, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Charles McNair, Mrs. Frank Buttler and the guests of honor, Miss Rhoda Gillelan, Mrs. J. W. Houser and Mrs. John A. O'Donoghue. Word has been received from Miss Ruth Gillelan that she is recovering from a second eye operation at the Baltimore Ear, Eye and Throat hospital and that she expects to be able to return by the end of this week.

A group of Spanish colonists, first white settlers in the southwest, arrived in what is now New Mexico in the year 1598.

PURITANS PUT BAN ON XMAS AS FRIVOLOUS

Christmas was outlawed in England by the Puritan government of England in 1643 and, although the restoration of the Stuarts brought a revival of Christmas customs and traditions, Christmas never regained its former prestige in England.

It is observed religiously in the churches and as a day for family reunions and social gatherings, in contrast to the lavish feasting and boisterous merry-making of olden times.

Merry-making and gift-giving come in for their share, however, on December 26 which is Boxing

Day. The origin of Boxing Day antedates Christmas and can be traced to the custom of gift-giving during the Roman festival of Saturnalia. In Christian liturgy December 26 is observed as the feast of St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, and during the centuries when journeymen and apprentices were in the habit of levying upon their masters' customers, 'Christmas Boxes' were collected on St. Stephen's day.

Thus, the children receive their presents, in boxes, as do old servants, the postman, and everyone else. And reminiscent of the Roman Saturnalia, householders dance with the servants and, toward evening, there is revelling in the streets as groups of merry-makers gather on street corners or ride about London-town dancing on the 'flats' of trucks.

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP) — Visitors to the 1951 Pennsylvania farm show will have a chance to see more livestock than ever has been shown before at this largest of all farm exhibits.

The farm show commission said yesterday that 1,723 head of horses, sheep, swine and beef and dairy cattle — a record number — will be on display during the Jan. 8-12 show.

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP) — A State Chamber of Commerce district legislative meeting was told last Tuesday a sales tax "might be the most equitable" way to meet the need for $130,000,000 additional revenue in the 1951-53 biennium.

James J. Mahon, Philadelphia accountant, told the meeting that the commonwealth will end the current biennium with a deficit of $65,000,000.

In 1937, a Waukegan, Ill., minister and the residents of one city block decided to do something about the disposal of the family Christmas tree. Nothing is more forlorn than worn out Christmas trees. They deserve better fates than being dumped in alleys and vacant lots: and they constitute fire hazards on back porches and in basement areaways.

So, Waukegan held its first annual Twelfth Night observances committing the trees to a community bonfire amid the chorusing of carols.

And the custom has waxed. Residents of several communities, choruses, soloists, etc., particpating as the spirits of the Christmas trees are dispatched to some fir Valhalla to return to bless a future Yuletide.

There are 23 professional forestry schools in the United States functioning as branches of colleges or universities of recognized standing.

Charlemagne sent Christian missionaries to Bremen, Germany, in 787.

XMAS CANDLES WERE USED BY MANY PEOPLES

It would be astonishing, indeed, if no candles appeared in homes throughout the nation on Christmas Eve. The legend which surrounds the custom is believed to have started in Ireland.

There on Christmas Eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary. As the Irish put it: "Who knows, on some Christmas Eve, Jesus and Mary and Joseph may come again, not to Palestine, but to the Holy Isle on the fartherest edge of Europe?"

Early Legends

Their first use for Christmas is not recorded in the annals of any nation, but that the "Christ Child Candle," burned in the window on Christmas Eve is, according to an old legend, placed there to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and in atonement for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

Also among the legends is one about bayberry candles burned on Christmas.

During the early history of our country, animal fats were relatively scarce. The branches of the bayberry shrub were covered with waxgiving berries and children were given the task of gathering the berries when candles had to be made so that the animal fats could be conserved.

Bayberry "Luck"

According to tradition, one who burned a bayberry candle on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day would have long life and a happy one.

An old verse reads:

"To learn you luck for the year they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day.
If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good luck will be yours throughout the year."

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Senator Ives (R-NY) said Tuesday President Truman will have to take Republicans into his confidence if he wants their backing on foreign policy.

News Of Special Interest To The Residents Of Emmitsburg And Vicinity

START MOVE TO MARK GRAVE OF TOWN'S FOUNDER

A movement to erect a marker at the grave of Samuel Emmit, founder of Emmitsburg, was started at a meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce at the firehall Tuesday night.

Col. Thomas J. Frailey brought the matter to the attention of chamber members when he pointed out that the plot, located in the Presbyterian cemetery near Emmitsburg on the Gettysburg road, contains no memorial, and no public recognition had ever been attempted.

Col. Frailey was appointed to form a community movement to erect a marker.

B. J. Eckenrode, president, presided at the meeting. The secretary's report was given by John Roddy, Jr., and the treasurer's report by Harold Hoke. Four committees were called upon for reports and each chairman responded with a report that indicated that the Chamber is active.

Zoning Report Given

Herbert Neighbours, reporting for Housing and Zoning committee, explained that there are two ways of zoning, by law or by mutual agreement. Ernest Rosensteel, reporting for the National Affairs committee, related that the local chamber is considering the feasibility of joining the National Chamber of Commerce. He and President Eckenrode spoke of some of the chief advantages gained by being a member of the national unit.

Mr. Rosensteel also gave a detailed report of the joint meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce and the Thurmont Lions club held at Thurmont November 17. He gave a review of the address of the national advisor of the foreign affairs committee of the National Chamber of Commerce, William J. Bird, of Washington, D. C. He said that Mr. Bird dealt with the matter of private enterprise vs. socialism at the community level.

Deplores Apathy

Comparing the apathy he said exists at the grass root community level all over the nation, to the perilous situation confronting the United States and the world, he called for action now, from the individual citizen members of the 2,300 units of Chamber of Commerce groups throughout the United States.

A representative of the Potomac Edison company, Mr. Bradford, gave a summary of a survey made by the company concerning the physical possibilities for future industrial development in Emmitsburg and community.

Three new applications for membership were approved, the Palm Lunch, Rev. Stanley Saarff, and Rev. Philip Bower. This brings the total membership of the chamber to 79.

Lewis Cooper reported for the Labor committee and C. A. Elder for the proper marking of streets.

Offer Christmas Prizes

The Chamber decided to offer six prizes to business places and private residences for the most attractive Christmas decorations. Three prizes will be given to the three best decorated business places and three to the best decorated private residences. The prizes will be $10, $5 and $2.50. The judging will be done by a committee to be announced later.

A board of directors meeting was held following the regular meeting Tuesday night. The directors are the president, B. J. Eckenrode; first vice president, C. A. Elder; second vice president, Samuel Hays; treasurer, Harold Hoke, and secretary, John Roddy, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Emmitsburg have announced the birth of a daughter, November 18.

Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, will conduct morning devotions over radio station WFMD, Frederick, each Wednesday in December.

LIST STUDENTS FOR ORCHESTRA

Prof. Charles T. Stull, instructor of instrumental music at the Emmitsburg schools, announced this week that the following students compose the high school orchestra: Violins, George Tyler, Beulah Glass and Barbara Hays; trumpets, Thomas Hays, Fred Grimes and Ronald Kelly; trombone, George Springer and Weldon Shank; clarinet, Carolyn McNair; saxophone, Robert Hays; drums, Euclid Jones and Earl Crist; piano, Virginia Baumgardner.

Prof. Stull also announced a violin class with the following members, Beulah Glass, Leslie Creger, Juanita Tyler, Wayne Baumgardner, George Eyster and Nina Shank. Another beginners' class was organized in September. This class has five students. Mr. Stull said that there were other boys and girls in the school with special talent and aptitude for music who were not receiving the instruction mainly because they were unable to purchase the necessary instruments. The students are required to provide their own instruments. Patrons of the school have expressed their appreciation of the work Mr. Stull is doing as instructor in the schools. Mr. Stull spends one day each week at the Emmitsburg high school and meets each group for one hour each week. The senior orchestra plays for many assemblies and for graduation exercises.

The women of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a sewing party at the home of Mrs. Robert Gillelan this evening at 7 o'clock. There will be a meeting of the Lutheran Bazaar committee at the Parish house Wednesday, November 29, at 1 o'clock.

TOWN PLANS XMAS EVENTS

The Emmitsburg Community Christmas celebration sponsored by the Lions club and which will be held all day Saturday, December 23, got off to a good start Monday night, when the executive committee met at the call of General Chairman Clarence Hahn. The following committees were appointed: Advertisement, Clarence Hahn, Robert Daugherty and Herbert Rogers; trees, Charles Fuss, Cloy Seiss, Quinn Topper and Mervin Tate; street lights, Ralph McDonnell, Charles Troxell and Charles Spriggs; candy, oranges and lunch, Rev. Philip Bower; and movie, E. R. Shriver.

The Lions club is negotiating with the town officials about a plan by which the town will take over or cooperate on the street lighting decorations.

Following last year's innovation, but changing it a little, there will be four lighted trees placed at the square instead of eight, and the committee has announced through Chairman Hahn that they hope to extend the street lights beyond the square this year. They appeal to all residents and business places of Emmitsburg to begin now and cooperate in an attempt to make Emmitsburg attractive and pleasant to all who live here and all who come here to visit or to shop at Christmas time. Another big all-out celebration with a full program of events running through the entire day and evening is being planned and should bring another record-breaking crowd of people to Emmitsburg for Saturday, December 23.

MEN'S CHORUS GIVES ANNUAL CONCERT AT 8

The Littlestown Men's chorus will present its third annual concert this evening at 8 o'clock in the Littlestown high school auditorium. The concert will follow the same general pattern as in previous years with a variety of numbers by the chorus with soloists, selections combining the Women's group, and special entertainment. Some of the numbers will feature special stage effects and lighting, which will present the chorus members not only as singers, but also as patrons of a tea room in one scene. As in past concerts, variety will be the keynote of the event.

"The Song of Christmas," a Fred Waring choral arrangement for mixed voices and soloists, will be presented again this year. Mack Edwards, program director of radio station WHVR, will be the narrator for this work, which will be the last part of the program. Another feature will be "Prelude of the Bells," a difficult arrangement for mixed voices of the popular piano work by Rachmanioff, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor." In addition to these numbers the chorus will sing "Embraceable You," which will feature Patsy Crouse, vocalist. Two other numbers will be solos by Stewart Long, tenor soloist, and Harold Sentz, baritone soloist. These songs, "Old Smoky" and "Wanderin," will be presented as parts of one scene.

The added entertainment feature the chorus has secured this year, is "Les" Clewell and the "Harmonica Chords," three versatiles of the harmonica. The trio is composed of David Campbell, John Orndorff and Mr. Clewell. They will appear midway through the concert for about 15 minutes, which will mark their first appearance in the area.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to defray the cost of gowns that are being made for members of the women's group and pianists. The group will make its first appearance in the new gowns tonight.

All seats for the concert will be reserved. Those tickets that have not yet been sold may be bought tonight at the auditorium door. The concert will begin promptly at 8 p.m., and those arriving after the program has begun will be asked to remain outside the auditorium until the close of a selection so as not to disturb the audience. The entire concert will last about one and one-half hours.

The chorus was organized April 8, 1848, and since that time has filled numerous singing engagements. Two series of weekly broadcasts, each of thirteen weeks' duration, were completed and plans are now being made for a third schedule of broadcasts to begin in January.

WOMAN'S CLUB SEEKS HELP ON BENEFIT EVENT

Mrs. L. L. Potter, president of the Women's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, today announced that the club is seeking donations for a public dinner and Bazaar to be held at the Littlestown high school Saturday, December 2.

Proceeds from the dinner and bazaar will go toward purchase of uniforms for the Littlestown high school band.

The band, Mrs. Potter said, "has literally outgrown its clothes. There are only 45 uniforms to outfit a band of more than 70 members. We hope to raise enough money through the dinner and bazaar to purchase the remainder of the uniforms needed to have a fully outfitted band."

Need Many Items

Donations for the bazaar will be accepted in the furnace room of the high school basement all day Tuesday, November 28, Mrs. Potter said. She asked donations of such things as crocheted, knitted or embroidered items, children's garments, aprons, any other needlework or handcraft, and items suitable for Christmas-giving or decorating.

The club is also seeking donations of turkeys, pies, cakes and candy as well as tomato juice, potatoes, sauer kraut, sweet potatoes, peas, pickles, beets, cranberry sauce, celery and carrots, fruits and the like. Perishable donations will be accepted Friday afternoon, December 1, Mrs. Potter said.

She urged those who wish to donate perishable articles to notify either herself, phone Littlestown 144-M, Mrs. Charles Weikert, 21 West King street, Littlestown, phone 79-R, or Mrs. Marvin Breighner, Kump apartments, Littlestown, phone 9-R.

The dinner December 2 will be served at the high school cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. until 8 p.m. and the bazaar will be conducted at the same time in the music room adjoining the cafeteria. The club hopes that all food for the dinner and all articles for the bazaar will be donated so that all income can be placed in the fund for uniforms.

It would be easy to let the breath-taking power, the luxurious ride and the gleaming good looks of a Buick sweep you off your feet.

And once you've sampled the sweet response of Dynaflow Drive*—you feel a big lack in anything else.

But let's be practical about all this.

What does it cost to buy—and to own—this star performer?

The first answer is a look at delivered prices—and most people still are surprised to find that a car which offers so much actually costs so little.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

That's true, whether you put the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the superb ROADMASTER against other cars of comparable dimensions. They certainly shine on a first-cost basis.

But this is only half the story, as you'll soon find out on any used-car lot.

Year in, year out, the resale prices of Buicks stay much closer to first cost than the prices of cars with lesser merit.

And among recent models, Buicks with Dynaflow Drive command such a premium that you can almost figure you get this dream drive for free.

So why not let yourself go? Why not walk right into your Buick dealer's now and say, put me down for one of those!

There's no time like the present for showing your good judgment.

Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 24 (AP)—Steve Dadiak said he liked to read newspaper divorce notices to get a line on possible dates with divorcees.

Last night he drove up to keep one with recently-divorced Mrs. Catherine Morrison. But he didn't keep it. Police, tipped off ahead of time by Mrs. Morrison, took him in tow on a disorderly persons charge.
